LLOYD GEORGE'S PLEA TO U. S.

Council Wars on 'Family Wash Rags'

TOOTHBRUSH LAW STRIKES AT KIDDIES' RETREATS

Separate Combs for Children Demanded by Ordinance Now Pending

The democratic spirit that has marked this nation since the revolutionary fathers broke loose from the British is threatened with extinction at its source.

The Glendale City Council last night read, for the firs ttime, an ordinance that is designed to regulate those day nurseries or boarding houses where children are "parked," either permanently or temporarily.

The new ordinance provides that each child in such institutions shall have

A separate comb,
A separate tooth brush,
A separate towel,
And a separate wash cloth.

Anyone who has attempted to rear a family, no matter how small in number, knows that one of the inherent rights of childhood is to use tooth brushes, wash rags, combs, brushes, drinking cups, chewing gum, and all the other articles of use or ornament or pleasure that they can lay their hands on, indiscriminately. So, when the cold official edict goes forth that these pleasures are to be taboo in future, the children may be expected to rise in arms and refuse to be bound by the ordinances in such case made and provided, as threatening that God-given liberty for which our fathers—some of them—fit, bled and died.

But that is not all. The ordinance further provides that separate beds must be furnished for each child, supplied with good springs, clean and comfortable mattresses and sufficient bedding, with at least two feet between each two beds.

Again, the kids are asking how they are going to keep warm in winter if they cannot pile two or three into a bed and snuggle up, spoon fashion; or how an ambitious child is going to swat another with a pillow if he has to run the risk of dropping through the space between the beds.

Other provisions state the amount of floor space for each inmate of such homes, the nearness of fire escapes and stairs for them to slide down and otherwise risk their necks on, and the employment of an adult person to keep an eye on the little rascals at all times.

'Laddie Boy' of Glendale Enters Hollywood Show

Since special mention has been made of Glendale's prize felines, the precocious "alley cats" and intelligent hens, the canine contingent must not be ignored.

Representing Glendale at the kennel show being held today and tomorrow in Hollywood is Laddie Boy, fine four-year-old white collie belonging to Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Card of 469 West Pioneer drive. This is his first entrance in a show and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Card are interested in learning of the recognition he will receive.

KIWANIANS BOOM DEAL FOR OFFICE

Glendale Club Unit Favors Phone Company Manager as District Chief

If the enthusiasm shown at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Kiwanis club for the candidacy of Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., for lieutenant governor of Kiwanis in the southern California district, is to be taken as a criterion, Mr. Deal can be regarded as one of the strongest contenders for the honor.

The Deal-for-lieutenant-governor boom was officially launched today at the meeting in the Tuesday afternoon club, and a motion was carried unanimously that a delegation from the Glendale club will attend the meeting of the Lankershim Kiwanis club next week and further the movement there and elsewhere.

A telegram was read to the club from the Kiwanis club of Santa Maria, inviting the members to attend the first meeting of the new club tomorrow, when Charter night will be observed, and to stay over for the barbecue that will be held Sunday.

Representatives of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club also invited the Glendale members to attend the regular meeting of the former club next Wednesday, to be held in the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles. About seventy members of the Glendale club will accept the invitation.

Today's visitors were Dr. F. R. Gom, Harry C. Kennedy, Dr. R. C. Logan, John Lang, Orville Hallon and Rev. L. J. Millikan. Attendance prizes were awarded to Hy Wilson and Rex C. Kelley.

Normal C. Hayhurst, High school athletic director, and Vice-Principal A. L. Ferguson presented the members with tickets to

Dahlia Show Riot of Flowers

EAGLE ROCK GAINS FAME IN BLOOMS

Throngs of People From Five Friendly Valleys Pay Tribute to Ococtli

What the Tournament of Roses is to Pasadena, the Dahlia Show is coming to be to Eagle Rock.

Yesterday afternoon, and again last night, the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse flamed with a gorgeous riot of this lovely flower that was grown by the Aztecs, under the name "Ococtli," before the invasion of Cortez and received its present name from Professor Andrew Dahl, a Swedish botanist who did much to bring it to the present high state of cultivation.

Throngs of people from "the five friendly valleys" passed in and out of the main auditorium, where the main exhibit was staged, and along the shady north veranda, where the juvenile exhibit had been arranged.

Many desirable prizes were awarded by the judges—Dr. S. S. Archer, president of the Los Angeles Dahlia association; J. J. Broomall, Eagle Rock, dahlia grower, whose "Ambassador" took the San Francisco state prize this year; and J. Gutting, a noted fancier of the flower.

The cash prizes totaled $150, while there were many other awards. The judging was finished at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the beautiful exhibit was opened to the public. From then on until 6 o'clock, and again from 8 o'clock until a late hour the throng of spectators attending Eagle Rock's second annual Dahlia Show was constant.

Perhaps the most sensational bloom in the entire exhibit was J. J. Broomall's "Siskyou," a new creation in marvelous shades of rose, peony flowering and not yet fully unfolded. Across its face the lovely flower measured 11½ inches and would easily have gained another inch had it been allowed to grow a few more days.

FELONS WILL BE DISLODGED BY DYNAMITE

STATE PENITENTIARY, EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 5.—State militiamen trying to capture three barricaded convicts with showers of machine gun bullets were preparing this forenoon to lay down a barage under cover of which several men were to creep up with dynamite to tumble down the building where the felons were entrenched. The dynamite has already arrived.

"Spare no expense or property damage" was the message of Governor Morrow which came today with additional national guard troops.

"We will get these desperadoes dead or alive today," was the assertion of Captain Redfield, in charge of the besiegers.

Fight Over Mrs. Webb's Wealth Is Developing

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Instead of a poison mystery, the death of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, wealthy wife of Charles Webb, a Wall street broker, seemed likely to develop today into a bitter and sensational legal fight over the millions she left.

Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, Bellevue hospital toxicologist, has completed his examination of the dead woman's vital organs. His report to the Westchester county grand jury on Monday will be that bichloride of mercury poisoning was found, but not in sufficient quantities to have caused death.

Alexa Stirling Will Meet Edith Cummings

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Miss Alexa Stirling of Atalnta and New York, and Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, won their matches in the semi-final round of the women's national golf championship tournament here today, and will meet tomorrow for the title.

REGULATE GARAGES

The City Council last night passed an ordinance prohibiting the operation of a public garage or filling station in the same building in which rooms are prosemblies and requiring that privided for sleeping or public asvate garages must be separated from the rest of the residence by fireproof building material.

NEW PARKING ORDINANCE OFFERED

Time Limit in Restricted District Reduced to One-Hour Period

A new parking ordinance, which has been contemplated for several months, was introduced and passed its first reading last night before the City Council. It is scheduled for adoption Thursday night.

The time limit in the restricted district is reduced to one hour. Streets to which this restriction applies are Brand boulevard between California avenue and Colorado street and Broadway between Central avenue and Louise streets. The ordinance will be in effect between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin stated that he believes merchants would rather have the restrictions go into effect at 10 a. m. Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilman W. A. Horn both called attention to the crowded condition of Brand boulevard before this hour.

How to Park

Another section of the ordinance provides that automobiles must be parked parallel to the curb and not more than one foot away except on the following streets where they are to be parked diagonally:

Brand boulevard, Los Feliz to north limits; California avenue, south side, between Central avenue and Louise street; Wilson avenue, south side, between Central avenue and Louise street; Harvard street, between Central avenue and Kenwood street; Colorado street, south side, between Central avenue and Kenwood street; San Fernando road, west side, between Brand boulevard and El Bonito avenue; Central avenue, west side, between Colorado street to California avenue; Maryland avenue, east side, from California avenue 200 feet south; Louise street, west side, from Wilson avenue 200 feet north; Louise street, west side, between Elk avenue and Lomita avenue; Kenwood street, east side, from Wilson avenue 200 feet south; Isabel street, east side, from California avenue 200 feet south; Cedar street, east side, from Broadway, 200 feet north; Central avenue, east side, from Lexington drive 200 feet north.

Glendale Goes Way Over Top in Jap Relief Drive

Glendale went over the top $3628.04 in the Japanese relief fund drive, is the final report issued by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter. The original quota set was $3432.

With final returns from the seven divisions of the United States showing a grand total of $9,702,700, it is seen that the country has generously exceeded the $5,000,000 asked by the American Red Cross.

Most gratifying is that the Pacific division has carried off premiere honors, more than trebling its quota.

The following contributions are acknowledged by Mrs. Bartlett: Young Ladies' Institute of Glendale, $5; Japanese friends, $6.50.

REDS, I. W. W., KLAN HIT BY UNIONIST

John L. Lewis of United Mine Workers Gives Views on Radicals

PORTLAND, Oct. 5.—Organized labor today served notice that it would fight to secure control of the water power resources of the nation for the service of the people at cost. Coincident with the passage by the American Federation of Labor convention of a resolution opposing the subsidizing by the government of privately-owned water systems, President Samuel Gompers informed the delegates that labor would be represented on the American water power commission which will attend an international conference in England next year.

By JAMES S. SHEEHY
For International News Service

PORTLAND, Oct. 5.—The American workman is the most intelligent wage-earner in the world. Given the chance of education, proper working conditions and wages commensurate with his toil and there is little danger of him being undermined by "reds" or theorists.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' union, so advised newspaper men today on arrival here to attend the American Federation of Labor convention.

"Organized labor is bothered with communists and radicals," said Lewis. "But the situation is not serious. We have had very little trouble in the mine workers' union. The 'reds' find their best field for propaganda among the foreign born. We find the I. W. W.'s in the east teaming up very closely with the communists and radicals.'

No Use for Klan

"Has the Ku Klux Klan made any inroads among the miners?" Lewis was asked.

"Very little," he answered. "The United Mine Workers' union has no use for such organizations. At our convention two years ago we forbade mine workers to join the Klan."

El Paso, Texas, through Mayor M. Dudley, early today officially invited the American Federation of Labor to hold its annual convention in El Paso next year.

The invitation is supplemented by the promise of E. D. Ruiz, Mexican consul general in El Paso, assuring that the Mexican Confederation of Labor "will certainly hold its annual meeting in Juarez if the American Federation meets in El Paso."

Marshal Tsao-Kun President of China

PEKING, Oct. 5.—Marshal Tsao-Kun, one of China's military overlords, was elected president by parliament today. He received 480 votes.

A government mandate prolonging the life of the present parliament made possible a quorum. The whole capital, especially the parliament buildings, were heavily guarded and the number of visitrs to the election ceremony was strictly limited.

The election of Tsao-Kun fills the office for the first time since the military coup following the Lincheng case in which Li Huan Hung was forced to flee the capital.

The election of Tsao-Kun is a triumph for the Chihli party, of which he is the leader.

BARBARITY OF DARK AGES LIVES ON IN HATREDS AND ENMITIES DISPLAYED NOW BY NATIONS, SAYS VISITOR

Former British Premier Given Great Ovation As His Ship Enters New York Harbor; 'Seeing America" Principal Object

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—David Lloyd George, war time premier of Great Britain and one of the foremost statesmen of Europe, warned Americans today in his first speech on American soil that they "must be patient with Europe."

"You must be patient with us in Europe," he said, in responding to an address of welcome at the city hall.

"We have inherited the barbarity of the dark ages.

"Would to God we could put aside the hatred, the enmity, the vengeance which has made Europe run red with blood."

By H. P. MALKUS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A distinguished tourist, Hon. David Lloyd George, M. P., landed upon the American shore at noon today and received a welcome such as has been given by Americans to no commoner. From the Battery to City Hall thousands lined the streets as bands, motorcycle policemen, mounted patrols and fleets of automobiles that formed the Lloyd George procession moved up historic Broadway.

So warm was the welcome, so genial the response that the little Welshman evoked, that the police could not restrain the crowds from rushing to the side of his automobile and shouting their individual welcome.

Waves His Tall Hat

All along the route, Lloyd George stood, waving his tall hat and smiling his infectious smile in response to the greetings.

From early morning when the Mauretania anchored off quarantine, Lloyd George was the center of a pushing throng and the object of honor.

Before he had finished breakfast, word was brought to him that he was being "serenaded." He went on deck to the rail and looked down upon a small cutter.

It carried a delegation of Greeks, and on its deckhouse a banner with the greeting:

Band Plays British Anthem

"Welcome, Lloyd George, the great friend of the Greeks."

He doffed his hat to his first welcome, and the band played "God Save the King."

Then the cutter steamed around in a circle, revealing another banner, proclaiming:

"Long live Lloyd George—the protector of democracy."

"I am here to see America and the Americans," Lloyd George said, in his first statement for the people of the United States.

"I bring no message. I have no questions to propound or discuss. To do that would be presumptuous of me.

"I hope to see the country and to talk with the people.

"And," he added a bit wistfully, "I hope they will like me."

Poses for Pictures

The cameramen found him, and over the protests of his special representative, Sir Alfred Cope, and one or two others of the nobility in his party, rushed him up a steep ladder to the upper deck, where he posed for numerous "stills" and hundreds of feet of movies.

Dame Margaret Lloyd George,

KELS PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

Lodi Rancher Admits Slaying Friendless Itinerant Laborer, Sept. 12

STOCKTON, Oct. 5.—Alex Kels pleaded guilty before Judge D. M. Young's court here this morning of the murder of an unknown itinerant laborer near Lodi on the night of September 12.

In a calm and unimpassioned voice Kels answered the judge's question with the words: "Yes, I am guilty." Sentence will be pronounced next Monday at 10 a. m., the court announced.

"Now that I'm caught I want it to be all over with as quickly as possible," Kels declared to Assistant District Attorney Marion G. Woodward yesterday. "I have taken a life and I expect to pay one back. I am ready to plead guilty. Let them hang me as soon as they wish. I don't care."

Refuses to Talk

When seen by an International News Service correspondent Kels absolutely refused to talk. He glared at his would-be interviewer with a look of tired indifference and paid no attention to questions. "The man is all tired out and will not talk to anybody," Morgan A.

Unanimous Favor Found For Widening San Fernando Road

Widening of San Fernando road through the city will be discussed October 17, at the Cerritos school at a meeting of all property owners and others interested.

A special invitation was extended last night to the City Council.

Mrs. C. W. Bacon of 900 South Glendale avenue reported that an investigation has revealed no opposition to the proposed extension of the proceedings. She mentioned several property owners, who are contemplating the erection of business buildings, and desire to have the street widened as soon as possible.

Unanimous Approval

"We find that people all along the way are anxious to have the street widened," endorsed Mrs. May P. Boberly of 1011 South San Fernando road. "Plans are as we understand them, to improve San Fernando road all the way from San Fernando to its terminus in Los Angeles."

Whether the street cleaning department should remove a pile of maple leaves from the parkway at the norheast corner of the intersection of California avenue and Louise street was the subject of a conference last the City Council. Mr. Person of 247 North Louise street and the City Council... Mr. Person scored the inconsistency of a recent regulation which prohibits property owners from sweeping leaves and such wates materials from the parkways into the street.

The improvement of Palmer avenue between Central avenue and San Fernando road may be delayed because of the inability of the Board of Education to pay its share of the cost of paving the portion of the street adjacent to the Acacia school.

On this account, the City Council last night, which indicated that it was ready to instigate the necessary proceedings, delayed action.

Although the city treasury still has $10,000 worth of unsold bonds authorized last year for the improvement of streets adjacent to school property, the council takes the attitude that it can not use this money for the paving of any streets not specifically mentioned previous to the bond election.

City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy reported that a checkup showed that 58.8 per cent of the interested property owners are in favor of the improvement of this street.

Before further action is taken, City Manager W. H. Reeves was instructed to confer with Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools.

Glendale's two auto camps are being given five days to explain why their licenses should not be revoked. The City Council last night set the date for the official hearing, as required by ordinance, for October 11. Motion for the revocation of the permits was made by Councilman C. E. Kimlin and passed unanimously. Attorney Claire W. Anspach's request for permission to say a few words on the subject was denied...

Attorney Dwight W. Stephenson represented protesting residents of neighborhoods in which the camps are located.

Kelley Tells of Great Work Done in Glendale by Y.M.C.A.

Glendale Y. M. C. A. directors and Rex C. Kelley, Y. M. C. A. executive, met for luncheon yesterday noon at the Harriet Mae tea room on East Harvard street, to listen to reports closing the year's work and to discuss and formulate plans for the new year.

There were present Rex C. Kelley, David Black, chairman of the board; C. W. Ingledue, H. L. Finlay, W. F. Tower, H. P. Arnold, T. E. McGuire and C. D. Lusby.

Reports on the year's work and accomplishments were given by Mr. Kelley and Mr. Lusby, the treasurer.

Some of the outstanding facts contained in Mr. Kelley's report are: Building of a garage for a widowed lady by the Hi-Y; distribution of baskets of food to needy at Christmas; donation of $25 for boys' work in other lands; $35 given to send two high school boys to college men's conference at Asilomar, $15 given to send an under-privileged boy to summer camp, old clothes collected for students in Russia.

Other work was taking 418 boys to Pasadena Y. M. C. A. for swimming tests, six week-end camps in San Gabriel canyon, Easter vacation trips to Catalina and Santa Cruz islands, camp fire picnics, hikes, etc.; 155 boys attended three summer camps of eleven-day periods at Catalina, $873 used to send boys to summer camp, who could not afford to pay expenses, educational trips to manufacturing plants and battleship, 274 boys heard personal hygiene lecture by Dr. J. Anderson, 1,500 boys and girls heard Dr. M. B. Rutherford on harmful use of tobacco, 660 attended two father and son banquets.

All twenty-seven groups are Bible study groups, seventeen boys have joined the church, nine boys were trained and became Sunday school teachers; Harry Rimmer brought to Glendale for six days at an expense of $275 and gave evangelistic messages to 3,325 boys and girls.

An interesting letter from W. B. Kirk, who is traveling abroad, was read. It told of Mr. Kirk's visits to foreign Y. M. C. A. buildings and expressed the hope that Glendale may have a Y. M. C. A. building to house the various boys' and men's activities.

Next Friday the Glendale Y. M. C. A. board will meet in the new Y. M. C. A. building in Hollywood. The board is also planning to attend a Y. M. C. A. meeting October 27 and 28 at Santa Monica, when leaders from all parts of Southern California will be in conference.

PLAN MONUMENTS FOR LINCOLN KIN

Graves of Martyr's Parents Will Be Decorated in Fitting Manner

JANESVILLE, Ill., Oct. 5.—Two unkempt graves in a desolate graveyard near here are soon to be given attention, after years of neglect by a forgetful public.

These mounds are the last resting places of Thomas and Nancy Lincoln, father and stepmother of Abraham Lincoln.

Tourists and sightseers pause long enough to chip a souvenir from the rough stone which serves as the only marker at the graves of the father and stepmother of the immortal president.

No monument adorns the lot upon which the little mounds have been thrown up above the bodies of these two historic characters. A rough stone, probably picked up from the road, has been placed at the foot of one of the graves and a similar marker at the head of the other.

The Illinois district of Lions International, under the direction of the Hon. Wayne C. Townley, district governor, have pledged themselves to the task of erecting a suitable and fitting monument to the memory of Lincoln's parents. Under the plan each club pledges one dollar for each member.

Of the fifty clubs in Illinois almost half of them have mailed checks for their share in the undertaking. Some aid outside the organization has been given also, although no appeal is being made to outsiders.

Girl of 22 Wants to Hold Constable's Job

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 5.—Desire for women candidates for public office is shown by Democrats of Lima and Ottawa township. At the August primaries Miss Gertrude Miller of Lima, pretty and only 22 years of age, won a substantial majority over all other Democratic aspirants for nomination for constable.

Miss Miller for eighteen months has been stenographer to Justice Ernest M. Bodkin. She is planning her campaign for election next November. Giving up all thoughts of a vacation, she expects to devote her time to campaigning. She wields a gun readily and declares she would "rather shoot than eat." She asserted she would have no hesitancy in "bringing into court the largest offender."

Singular Document Provides Legacies in Return for Acts of Kindness

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 5.—Because she remonstrated when neighbors burned leaves which aggravated Amentie Linz's asthma, Esther Lindeman was made the beneficiary of a $50 bequest in the will of Miss Linz, one of the most unique and singular documents of its kind to be filed in the local probate court. It disposes of a $2,000 estate.

"Be sure," read the underlined words of its text, "to have on my gravestone the words, 'I love my ma,' and on the one for mother's grave 'I love my girl.' Plant a white rose on mother's grave and see that it lives. Keep planting until one does live."

Some of the provisions of the odd document follow:

"Gustavus Root, $50. Gave us big piece of pork, spare ribs, fried cakes one Christmas. Beans at another time.

"Melinda Butler, $50. Stayed a few weeks with me after mother died.

"Elmer Nippress, $50. Good to us. Remembered us at Christmas.

"Minnie Patterson, $50. Gave us livers whenever they killed pigs.

"Earl W. Hopson, $50. Good to ma. Gave us auto rides. I promised to buy him a ring. Use $50 to buy it.

"Melvin Root, $25, for taking us to depot when horse kicked the cutter.

"Laverne McNamara, $25. Gave mother rabbit stuffed with candy at Easter time.

"Peter Hendrickson, $25, to pay for gasoline taking me to cemetery."

Bluff Over River Is Boys' School Site

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5.—High above the Meramac river, near Castlewood, a suburb, a summer home for boys has been built, an idea originated by Dr. Forest H. Staley and known as the "Epsilon Eta Club Camp."

The home, which holds a commanding view on the huge bluff overlooking the river, was built by Dr. Staley with the aid of a number of boys. Each week a number of boys are given an outing at the home, which accommodates twenty-four persons.

The club home is 275 feet above the level of the river. Dr. Staley, a member of the Washington University faculty, organized the club in May, 1912, and four years ago started work on the foundation of the summer home.

Almost every evening a group of boys gather about a campfire near the home to hear "Doc" give them a friendly talk.

Three Small Chicago Girls Anticipated Big Time On Modest Stake

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—For colossal, unalloyed innocence, Ann Bailey Pettigrew, 10; her sister, Virginia, 7, and Elizabeth Backus, 10, have this world and several others beaten.

They thought they could go to New York and have a smash of a time with $1.36.

The three youngsters are safely at home now, after having their pilgrimage spoiled before it had got very much of a bad start.

They scrambled aboard an elevated train in a North Side suburb and came to Chicago to take a train for New York. The journey was frustrated when they inquired of a policeman at a railroad station which was "the best track to go to New York." The policeman sent them and their baggage home again.

The baggage of the Pettigrew children consisted of several articles of clothing stuffed into a pillow slip. The Backus wanderer was a little more pretentious, carrying her effects in a small handbag.

"We wanted to go see daddy," the Pettigrew girls explained. Daddy was on a business trip to New York.

DANCE NETS SUM FOR FIRE FUNDS

Improvement Assn. Considers Chief's Salary Claim; New Members Join

The regular monthly meeting of the Improvement Association was held last night in the schoolhouse auditorium. In the absence of the president, Mr. Culberson, Rev. Kelso, pastor of the Community church, was asked to preside, opening the meeting with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, by Dr. Gavin Telfer, secretary. The treasurer's report was also read by Dr. Telfer as Mr. Haskins, who is treasurer, was not present.

Newly paid-up memberships were Messrs. Busch, Potter, Reynolds, Swanson, Bell, Trotsky; new members, J. Woods, Johnson, Park Jennings and Kolt.

Excess in Fund

It was stated there is an excess of $100 donated to the fire fund which is being held at the Montrose State bank, where the donations were turned in.

Dr. Nettleton, chairman of the ticket and finance committees for the dance held for the fire fighting fund, read his accounts which were as follows: Door receipts, $42; refreshments, $57; tickets, $172; donations, $73.75. Expenses for the dance, $26.26. Dr. Nettleton stated that Mr. and Mrs. Aiken sold 96 tickets and should be given credit for the time and work connected with the trips taken through the valley to sell this number of tickets, which added $72 to the fund. Dr. Telfer spoke about the typewriter which the association owns. Having turned in the old one on a portable machine, they still owe $30. The payment of this bill was authorized.

The fire question was again brought up and the statement made that the fire control bill will have no effect for at least a year, which means it will be necessary for the fire fighting to be done as at present for that time.

The question of the association being utterly unable to raise $1350 to pay Mr. Young $75 a month for the past six months, and the coming twelve, for his services as fire chief, was brought up. After much discussion it was decided that his salary for the past six months and up to January be paid for at that rate, but that a committee of three be appointed to call on Mr. Young and come to a favorable agreement as to a smaller compensation, particularly through the coming wet season.

It should be thoroughly understood, however, every one in the association feels, not only that Mr. Young's services are worth $75 a month, but that he should be paid that, if it were possible to raise the money, as he not only attends the fires, but takes care of the car and many times Mr. Young has to leave his business to attend fires and has lost customers through this. The committee appointed by Mr. Kelso to see Mr. Young is Dr. Nettleton, Dr. Telfer and S. B. Young.

Road Committee Reports

The road committee's report was to the effect that Montrose avenue is the first road work to be done here, and when Supervisor Wright gets the appropriation this work will be begun at once, the road to be cut through from Montrose west to Pennsylvania with a 2-inch macadam on a 20 foot strip, on the north side of the street only.

The zoning of the district to bar sanatoria for drink addicts, narcotic victims, etc., was discussed quite freely, Mr. Kolts voting the association go on record as being against the opening, starting or conducing of such institutions in our midst. This motion was carried.

Greely Kolts, editor of the Montrose-La Crescenta Star, informed the association that, having a number of legal lights in the city as his friends, he would ascertain what steps could be taken to establish zones, and expel such objectionable sanatoria as are now established. Hospitals were not included in the list, though no doubt if any are erected here, they will be out of the residence districts. Mr. Kelso appointed a committee of three to take steps in the matter, Mr. Dunlop, attorney of the association, Mr. Kolts and Mr. Culberson.

Short and interesting talks were given by Mr. Morgan, editor of the Verdugo Record, and Mr. Kolts, editor of the Montrose-La Crescenta Star. Mr. Kelso told of the building of the Community church, stating a force of carpenters are donating a day's labor on Saturday to the laying of the hardwood floors, and invited any carpenter present to come, if able, and help the work along.

Needs More Funds

The pastor also stated the church needed funds for its chairs and wanted everyone who was able to pledge one chair or more at $2.50 per chair. Mr. Kelso had pledge blanks with him for the convenience of the pledgers.

The tremendous blasts which have been shot off in the stone quarry lately, came in for their share of discussion, a motion made to the effect the secretary write a letter to the stone company to lessen the blasts and deaden them was unanimously carried. The concussions from these blasts are terrific and houses in the valley are at times pretty badly shaken.

Dr. Karr has joined the noble army of benedicts and will arrive home from his honeymoon tomorrow. The doctor married Miss Agnes Conklin, who has been assistant superintendent of nurses in the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles for a number of years. They will reside in the new home on Honolulu avenue, where the doctor also has an office.

The board of the Parent-Teacher's association met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Potts in Montrose. Many questions were taken under discussion and if the ladies carry on with their present enthusiasm through the year, big things will be accomplished in the valley.

Stockholders in the Crescenta Mutual Water Co. have been notified of the annual meeting and election for the coming year, which will be held in the La Crescenta schoolhouse. It is desired that all who are possibly able be present and those who are not should send a proxy.

"THE FASTEST GROWING FIRM IN CALIFORNIA—THERE'S A REASON"

Political Move Seen in Harvey's Return

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The retirement of Colonel George Harvey as ambassador to the court of St. James is due to his desire to be on the ground and have a hand in the pre-convention jockeying that will precede the selection of a republican nominee for the presidency next year. His friends here have no doubt about this.

"President Coolidge's last instructions to me before leaving Washington were to the effect that if anything should happen to impair Anglo-American amity it would be a world catastrophe," said Colonel Harvey, speaking today at an American society luncheon.

Will H. Hays, who also was a guest at the luncheon, spoke briefly and praised the moving picture industry as a progenitor of peace among nations.

NEWLYWED SUICIDES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Married but three weeks, V. L. Morrison, 22, shot himself through the head today after an alleged quarrel with his wife, according to the Venice police. Morrison died while being rushed to a hospital. The reported absence of powder burns on Morrison's head caused police to probe the shooting.

Horses are not permitted on busy streets of many cities because they deter traffic of automobiles.

GYPSIES GET SAVINGS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—In fear of a curse which members of a roving gypsy band threatened to put on her, a Los Angeles woman gave her savings amounting to $580 to the gypsies, it was revealed today in a report to the sheriff's office by C. Kueneman, who said the woman was his mother-in-law.

Girls Learn Dancing In Mountain School

MONTE NE, Ark., Oct. 5.—Nature's schoolhouse, where pantomime dancing, expression and singing are taught to a class of thirty-five girls in a spot secluded by a cluster of trees, is located atop the highest mountain overlooking the beautiful resort of Monte Ne.

"Joyzelle," as the summer school for girls is called, is situated nearly 400 feet in the air above where the students are camped. Each morning the girls, ranging in age from 6 to 16 years, arise and hike up the zigzag trail for a two-hours' class.

Back in the cluster of trees is a well-constructed floor and a piano, where the girls are taught the arts of dancing and singing. The school is under the direction of Misses Ira Armstrong and Marie Clymer, of Little Rock.

Meaning of 'Tujunga' is Mystery; Indian Legends Speak of 'Mother's Smile'

By F. A. GRAHAM
Written for The Evening News

One of the ever-recurring questions put to Tujungans is "What does 'Tujunga' mean?" The newcomer or potential resident who becomes interested in property there sooner or later asks that question. Perhaps the correct answer is the one received from George Harris by the writer when the question was asked at the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the town, held early in the present year.

All the Tujunga notables were present, including among others Geo. C. Buck, the town's first unofficial postmaster who kept office in his wheelbarrow after the mail became too heavy for his hat to accommodate it and who, as he himself admits, resigned the thankless job when some one insinuated that he had pilfered the mail; Fred M. Ashby, Tujunga's first official postmaster and one of John Steven McGroarty's story characters; Mr. McGroarty, M. V. Hartranft and many other pioneers in the colony.

Mr. Harris replied to the question, "Nobody knows." Undoubtedly this is the correct answer, as George Harris is one of the first residents of Tujunga, having built Legion hall in the days when the town was called Little Lands. Legion hall was the first permanent building erected.

Indian Origin

But there are those who are supposed to know who advance different theories as to the meaning. On one question all are evidently agreed. The word is of pure Indian origin. Just what tribe or branch is rather obscure and therefore the exact meaning has never yet been disclosed with any degree of authority to back it.

The generally acepted meaning, however, is the one advanced by M. V. Hartranft, pioneer subdivider. His theory is that the word Tujunga means "an Indian mother's smile" and is based on a hypothetical occurrence described by Marion Earl in a poem called "Tujunga, a Legend."

It seems, according to the story, that a very sour and ill-natured Indian chief, tribe unnamed, so misruled his people and vexed others that three other tribes, supposed to have been the Tulares, Piutes and Mancos, joined together to exterminate the unnamed tribe.

As the story goes, these three tribes were largely successful, scattering what few managed to survive to the four winds. Among these few were the old chief and a feeble remnant of his once great people.

Camped at Tujunga

They wandered from place to place until they finally camped after dark one night on the site of what is now Tujunga. In the morning the grumpy old chief watched the sunrise over the valley. The effect it had on him is described in the following quotation from the poem:

"Long that Indian; old and bitter,
Looked upon the wondrous landscape,
Harkening to dawn's wordless music,
And the spirit's mighty word.
In that hour his mood was shattered;
All the old and icy harshness
Seemed to melt and break within him
And new life was roused and stirred.
And he turned to those who watched him,
Smiling in his new-found pleasure,
Spoke the one great word, "Tujun-ga,"
That with meaning throbs and lives,
Mingles rapture, admiration
And the hearts' exhilaration,
Just as we do when "delightful"
To the soul expression gives.
Long the old chief looked about him,
Long upon the summit lingered,
Lived and died he in the shelter
Of the Green Verdugo Hills
Millionaire of calm contentment,
And his spirit mellowed, softened,
'Till his smile was like a mother's
That above her papoose thrills.

Here he lies, up near Haines Canyou,
From the grounds of happy hunting
Comes his spirit oft to linger
In the haunts of old delight.
And the ground is still enchanted,
Till whoever walks upon it
Feels the meaning of Tujunga,
And the word's alluring might."

Means "Delightful"

A close analysis and literal translation of this poem-story would tend to show that the word means "delightful," since the chief is supposed to have uttered the word "Tujunga" in appreciative admiration of the scene revealed to him by the dawn, rather than being a description of his smile. This latter theory has many supporters among those interested in the history of the valley.

The most enthusiastic claim that "delightful" is the most logical meaning, since that is invariably the expression uttered by persons viewing the hills about for the first time. Since one theory is as good as another, and there is no great degree of importance involved in the settlement of the question, the newcomer can always choose for himself, or invent a meaning to fit his ideas of the place.

It has been said that less pleasant interpretations have been given the word by persons who were not altogether pleased with certain episodes in their Tujunga careers.

Bootleggers' Idea

For instance, a bootlegger caught in the act not long ago was heard to express grave doubts as to his wisdom in picking the place for his operations and to forcibly announce his idea of the town and vicinity. To him the meaning was anything but delightful and no trace of a smile, Indian or otherwise, could be detected as the "camels" led him away.

But no matter which theory is accepted, few will disagree with the sentiment expressed by Lorraine Hunter of Tujunga in the following:

T—The Temple where all may kneel.
U—The Unity all may feel,
J—The Joy all may share,
U—in Uniting in thankful prayer,
N—For Nature's blessings sent,
G—To Greet those weary, bent,
A—To the Acme of content.

'OXY' AND STATE TEACHERS CLASH

Teams Launch Schedule With Crucial Game Saturday at San Diego

The Occidental College varsity eleven under the eagle eyes of Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal and Assistant Coach Rundquist left this afternoon by train for San Diego where they will meet the State Teachers' College football team in the first regularly scheduled game of the season, Saturday.

Last year the score was 7 to 7 at the half and then the Tigers cut loose with an aerial attack and swamped the southern team. They will have to duplicate their victory if they expect to win the conference this season, and they are the highest bidders, according to the pre-season dopesters. No team in the conference looks as good right now as the Oxy varsity. They possess wonderful team work for so early in the game and are showing all kinds of class and speed in their daily scrimmages with the strong frosh team.

Captain Tony Spangler is confident that his men can win the title if they buckle down to real work and fight all the time. Cliff Argue, veteran of two seasons, and Spangler will handle the two end positions. They were all conference wing men last season. Art Garey and Jack Stevens, two men that tip the scale around 180 pounds, are the best tackle bets. Garey has been shifted from the back field to the line because Pipal realized that he would be able to fill the difficult position held by Gene Cory. Stevens was the star man on the frosh eleven last season.

Guards Are Strong

When we think of guards, the names of McDonald, Davidson, Creighton, Goodenough, Hoobyar and Snoody, all exhibiting supreme brand of football, come to mind. McDonald and Davidson will probably start at the soldier positions.

Priaulx is to hold down the center birth and will be relieved now and then by Al Gates, also of the frosh eleven. Either would make a good showing.

The back field has a raft of husky line plungers and speedy ball carriers. Most prominent among the rear group are fighting Tarezan Ridderhoff, the player who added much yardage to the Tigers last season. Shaof will call signals, with Cresswell substituting. Westgate, Davis, Smith, Ebers, Hazeltine and Lindley are the other back field material.

Winter Carnival

Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal announces that Occidental college is going to hold the first annual winter relay carnival at Paterson field on Saturday, December 8th.

There will be five classes for athletes: the open or college, junior colleges, high schools, service—army and navy, and a special college freshmen class. This meet will act as a stimulus to gradual fall track training. Events for this carnival have been selected with the view of encouraging just the type of work that every coach wants his man to indulge in during the fall and early winter season. It is also hoped that this meet will be an inspiration to the football men of the high schools, colleges and government service to continue other forms of exercise after the gridiron season is over.

Invitations are already in the hands of all the colleges and universities and prep schools in the state and several of the other universities on the Pacific coast. Arizona and Nevada have been invited to take part.

Varied Program

Coach Pipal states that a punting, kicking and forward pass contest will be held in the morning. A special relay for fresh teams will be included in the list of events. There is to be a relay race open only to teams composed entirely of varsity football men, each running 110 yards, the length of the gridiron. A novice race will be an added feature.

Gold medals will be given for all first places, both in the relays and punting contest. Suitable awards will be given to second and third place winners. It is expected that several hundred athletes will take part in the new winter carnival. It was Occidental college that first started the A. A. U. relays, which are today one of the biggest track meets in the south.

Navajo Is Student

Occidental college has as one of its guests this year a student named Allen Gardner, who is a full-blooded Navajo Indian. He has the distinction of being the first Indian student to attend the institution.

Gardner is twenty years old and was born in Arizona, recently coming from there to California. He is a graduate of the Sherman Indian school and also of Riverside high. Allen expected to graduate from Oxy and is majoring to become a mechanical draftsman. He is very intelligent and speaks several languages well.

Not only is he a student but an equally good athlete. Gardner made the track team at the Indian school, the only athletic team they had; and played on the football, basketball, track and baseball teams at Riverside high. Big things are expected of young Allen Gardner at the Tiger college.

H. G. PRESTONS MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Harley G. Preston and baby, Virginia, of 312 West Colorado street, have moved to 335 West Dryden street. Mr. Preston, who was formerly pastor of the Pacific avenue Methodist church, is now in the real estate business at 131 South Brand boulevard where he is associated with H. L. Finlay.

Lower Living Costs, Not So Much Style In Paris, Kirk Finds

READERS of The Glendale Evening News are to hear more of Paris in the letter from W. B. Kirk, herewith printed. In his last letter Mr. Kirk told of their arrival in Paris, of his impressions of the city and of the museums and art galleries. His letter today continues the account of the art galleries. It follows:

W. B. KIRK

"An admirable feature in both the London and Paris galleries and museums is the placing of the name of the picture or whatever it is, on the frame of the picture or base of the sculpture, some description of it and the artist's name. This saves much trouble to the visitors and permits him to see so much in a given length of time. In the Louvre, however, it is done in French, and with most of us that is almost as bad as nothing.

"In the Notre Dame cathedral we found the most gorgeous windows we have seen in any cathedral, and they are very old. During the war they were all removed. We learned also that practically everything in the Louvre was taken out and put in safe places while the war was on.

"The auto busses of Paris are the biggest, most cumbersome-looking things imaginable. The driver sits away up high. How he manages to wade through the traffic, which goes in every direction, I will never know. Autos, especially taxis, go through the streets at terrific speed.

The big, two-wheeled carts, drawn by one immense draft horse, are big enough for four ordinary horses in America, so it would seem. And for the biggest loads they have three of these horses driven tandem, the driver walking beside the middle horse.

Strange Sights and Smells

"Getting into some of the narrow streets in the older sections of Paris, one gets some strange sights and smells. Some of the fruit, meat, vegetables, etc., which they sell from the stalls right out on the sidewalk, shows the other side of French life.

"In one of those streets I met a strange funeral procession. The hearse, old fashioned and small, and drawn by horses, was open at the sides and the white flowers were placed alongside the casket. It was followed by two nuns, walking, and a procession of bareheaded men, all on foot. I will never forget the appearance it made.

"The traffic here goes to the right instead of the left side of the street, so we are straight again, in looking out for it. The traffic rules, however, are very poor. Getting about in the midst of it requires great care. We are much pleased to be able to get some fresh fruit here. We can even secure fresh figs and all of it of splendid flavor. The prices are lower than they are in Los Angeles.

Likes French Cooking

"I really saw a few ears of green corn in a window, but have not had any to eat. My, how good it looked! It seems strange that they should have nice melons, peaches and grapes in Paris, when they have almost none of them in London. We are glad to get away from the English meals. We like the French fare and cooking better.

"They have at least one very large department store here, 'The Grands Magasins du Louvre,' and they carry an immense stock. The store must be 500 feet long. Prices on merchandise here seem lower than ours, at the present market value of the franc.

"I believe that cotton goods are not much cheaper, but woolens, silks and furs undoubtedly are. I believe that a man's tailored suit can be bought in England for half of what it would cost with us. But they lack the style.

American Shoes Lead

"Paris may make the styles and set the pace in ladies' goods, art goods, etc., but in men's wear they are away behind. You should see the old-fashioned patterns and cuts they sell in men's shirts and collars and the prices they ask for them. In shoes both ladies' and men's, we lead the world. American shoes are largely sold over here, one well-known make having stores in every city we visit.

"Of course you have heard of the beggary and of the evils of the tipping system in Europe. So far, it isn't quite as bad as I had been led to believe. There are a few hotels and restaurants where a 'no gratuities' sign is hung up or heads the menu.

Many From Home

"Paris is still full of Americans, though it is thought most of them will be trekking home soon. There were 10,000 sailed from London ports last Saturday and a lot more during the week. They are recognizable everywhere, on the streets looking at the window displays, in the hotels and tourist agencies. Many shops have lettered on their windows 'English spoken', others have their business signs in English, especially the restaurants.

"We haven't happened to meet many Los Angeles people, though we have seen a number from San Francisco. In conversation with English and Scotchmen I find that many Americans come over here who misrepresent their country. They swagger around and try to give the natives the impression that they are 'some pumpkins' by paying excessive tips to the servants and thus ruining them for service to their home folks.

Views on Prohibition

"Asked about the prohibition situation in America they laugh and say that liquor can be freely obtained in all the large cities, that the country is really sick of prohibition and will surely repudiate it and go back to booze as quickly as the sensible people of the country can be organized.

"I surely give the lie to all such nonsense and then show them how unfair it is in Britain to continue the shipping of liquor to America by having a fleet of vessels filled with it lying just outside the legal limit ready to help law-breakers defy the law. Every decent man admits it.

"A man from Dundee, Scotland, the seat of the largest whiskey manufacturing concern in Britain told me that they had a big liquor parade in Dundee not long ago, in which many trucks were loaded with barrels of whiskey bearing huge banners marked 'For America'. What do you suppose our consul there was doing all the while?

Think Them Millionaires

"A lot of these people seem to think that all Americans are millionaires. I try to disillusion them by telling them that, although some of our wealthy people do travel a great deal, the large majority of well to do Americans think so much of their own country that they never leave it; and that's another reason that they do have money. I tell them the few of us who are really less able to travel, but who want to see something of other countries, should not be penalized for it by being charged prices adapted only to millionaires.

"This leads me to say that if the ordinary tourist makes all the auto tours recommended by the tourist agencies, and under their direction he will surely be 'broke' before he gets home. I am mighty pleased that we are touring independently and can come and go as we please.

See Belleau Wood

"Yesterday we went to Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood cemetery. I will tell you about it in next letter. There are so many interesting things to see here that we may decide to stay a little longer than planned. We expected to go to Brussels about Thursday, but we cannot get away before Saturday anyway, possibly later.

"I haven't been over long enough to express an opinion on European politics. If you were to come here and not know France's situation, you would never think there was anything but prosperity in evidence, fine stores, high-priced merchandise, well-dressed people and everybody busy. Some of these politicians, senators and congressmen, who come over here for three or four weeks and go back home knowing and telling all about conditions in Europe and giving panaceas for all their trouble, certainly give me a pain. The trouble is their diagnoses and prescriptions are frequently directly opposed to each other.

Visits to Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood cemetery will be described in Mr. Kirk's next communication in next Tuesday's edition.

United Mine Workers Present Solid Front

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—Leaders of the United Mine Workers union, who are said to have been divided for some time, due to alleged bickerings among themselves, will present a solid front at the American Federation of Labor in session here, it was authoritatively learned.

The point is of particular interest to the convention, it is said, since the United Mine Workers' union is the largest group within the American Federation of Labor. Those who are in a position to know say that complete harmony among the leaders of the union will mean considerable in the influence the group will carry in the convention.

GOLDFISH OFFER CERTAIN PANACEA

Piscatorial Serenity Calms Restless Patients, Is Claim of Expert

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Dr. Coue, with his daily ditty, has had his day and gone into the discard with serpents' gizzards, crows' hearts and other one-time favorite cure-alls.

Today John Marshall, Syracuse bird specialist, offers the latest "sure cure" for nervous disorders. His remedy is goldfish.

They are not to be taken internally, however. Marshall advances the theory that the sight of a goldfish swimming calmly around in its tiny bowl, while empires totter and earthquakes wipe out whole nations, is a certain remedy for nervous ills.

Not only that. The finny fish will induce thought and contemplation. It is also a guaranteed remedy for insomnia, and hospitals are among the largest purchasers of goldfish, Marshall says.

If you are unable to think, Marshall recommends a goldfish treatment. Place the fish in your parlor window. Seat yourself beside the bowl and watch the leisurely travels of the radiant swimmer. A soothed, relaxed condition will ensue. Contemplation will produce ratiocination, and—lo!—the patient has a genuine thought.

The same process applied to insomnia will produce sleep on the heels of the soothed, contemplative feeling, Marshall claims.

City's Growth Amazes Connecticut Visitor

N. J. Stumpf of Bridgeport, Conn., is visiting his son, M. A. Stumpf, of the realty firm of Stumpf & Caldwell.

Mr. Stumpf has not been in California for nine years and is greatly amazed at the wonderful growth of the metropolitan area.

Glendale, as he remembers it, was centered around the S. P. station and Tropico. He says: "With the growing tendency of the east for California, the wonderful stride in building, ever increased demand for labor and unlimited advantages for capital, Glendale has a prosperous future."

He is looking forward to the time when he will call Glendale his home.

Concrete Now Plugged Same as Watermelons

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 5. — Patterned after the old custom of "plugging" a watermelon before paying for it, a machine has been devised to remove a plug from concrete work. Such a machine has been purchased by the city to make a check on the contractors doing public work and to give the department heads a final check on the inspectors. It has been dubbed by the city officials as an "honesty machine," for it shows up the quality of the concrete work.

ELMS TO BORDER HARDING HIGHWAY

Six Thousand Trees Will Form Noble Memorial To Late President

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 5.—A tree-bordered highway, twenty-six miles long, across the county, east and west, with stately elms rearing their branches every fifty feet on both sides of the road, is to be Allen county's memorial to the memory of late President Warren G. Harding.

The Harding highway, from Delphos to the Hardin county line, has been selected for the memorial avenue of trees. Nearly 6,000 elm trees will be planted so as to form a living memorial arch of green.

It has been proposed that other Ohio counties through which the Harding highway traverses take similar action, forming a tree-lined avenue across the entire width of Ohio. The Harding highway leads both to the tomb of former President Harding at Marion and that of former President William McKinley at Canton, Ohio.

The 6,000 trees to be planted in this county on Arbor Day, next April, will be furnished by Lynn B. Timmerman, member of the American Tree Association. He has asked the Van Wert and Hardin county automobile clubs to co-operate by planting trees through their counties on the same day.

Bus Line North From Wash to Come Later

The extension of the bus line from Doran and Louise streets over the Verdugo wash, to Mountain street does not seem likely.

Mrs. Sidney Dell of 928 North Louise street and Mrs. M. M. Houseman of 938 North Louise street last night requested the City Council to recommend the extension of this proposed line to the Pacific Electric. They called attention to the fact that the street car line is not a convenient distance away and that there are fifteen high school students in the territory besides intermediate students.

O. A. Smith, passenger traffic manager for the Pacific Electric, submitted the following communication: "I have gone over this matter very carefully and feel that it would be a mistake to install service at the present time. The territory north of the wash that is now developed is so situated that it is so near to Brand boulevard that a bus cannot be made to pay.

"Unquestionably later on, when development commences in the Glenhurst and other tracts between Glendale boulevard and Brand boulevard, there will be a need of bus service into this territory. It should be, however, as nearly as possible an equal distance from Brand boulevard and Glendale boulevard so as to properly serve the territory. If a bus line is put on now on Louise street experienced in changing the route unquestionably trouble would be when the time comes for the other service."

When the fact was explained that there is no Pacific Electric stop between Dryden and Arden avenues, the council thought that one might be arranged for at Fairview avenue.

USE CAMOUFLAGE TO COVER STILL

Green Painted Tent Conceals Moonshine Factory, Officers Claim

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 5.—Montana prohibition officers are searching for a war veteran who saw service overseas with a camouflage outfit. According to George Costello, dry agent of Glasgow, Mont., bootleggers are believed to be employing the returned veteran to conceal their moonshine stills on Montana farms.

Costello said a still was recently discovered in a tent near Bozeman, Mont., after many weeks' search. The moonshine-making outfit had been hidden in a tent, painted green, and pitched in a clump of willows. Several times the dry officers came within a few feet of the hidden still but were unable to locate it because of the successful camouflage. A large number of barrels, hidden in the willows nearby, were painted green.

Three hundred gallons of whiskey, 1,300 pounds of sugar, 1,000 pounds of corn and fifteen barrels of mash, ready for distilling, were found in the cache.

Evidence of the work of the veteran has been uncovered in other parts of the state, it was said. In a Northern Montana grain field a still was discovered hidden under a tent, which was covered with bunches of grain, tied together, and ready for harvesting. For some days dry agents searching for the still thought the disguised tent was a mound of grain.

Near Havre, Mont., a still was found on a mountain. The still was made of canvas and was located on the edge of a cliff. Painted to resemble rocks, it was many weeks before the moonshiners' outfit was discovered.

At Great Falls a still was recently found on the banks of the Missouri river. Here the still was located in a cave. Painted canvas trees were used to disguise a door, which formed the entrance to the cave.

Council Seeks Lower City Printing Rate

Bids on city printing were rejected by the City Council last night, on motion of Councilman Sam Davis, seconded by Councilman W. A. Horn, with the explanation "the lowest bid is about forty per cent higher than the figure at which the contract was made last year and a new call for bids may result in saving the taxpayers considerable m o n e y." Councilman C. E. Kimlin and Mayor Spencer Robinson also voted for the motion, but Councilman Asa Hall opposed it, without explanation.

"I believe a new call for bids will result in a substantial saving of money to the people," said Councilman Davis, in explanation of his motion. "The lowest bid this year is about 40 per cent higher than the low bid of last year. I favor giving the bidders a chance to revise their figures downward if by so doing we can save the people a few hundreds or a few thousands of dollars.

With the exception of Councilman Hall, the remaining members of the council seemed to agree with the suggestion and the city clerk was instructed to re-advertise for bids.

The City Council is being commended for pointing out the great increase over the figures of last year and now the question arises—was the low bid of a year ago ridiculously low?

Great Britain Ready for 12-Mile Limit

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Great Britain is preparing to accept Washington's proposals that the three-mile coast limit be extended to twelve miles, in order to facilitate search of ships suspected of smuggling whiskey, it was learned from a semi-official source this afternoon. Several of the colonial premiers attending the imperial council urged Great Britain to accept America's twelve-mile proposals.

According to a report in semi-official circles, Great Britain will consent to the American suggestion for a twelve-mile limit on condition British passenger-carrying ships may carry liquor (for passenger consumption) under seal while in American territory. The agreement, however, has not been worked out.

Mayer Brothers Bag Another Buck Here

"Johnny get your gun," says George Mayer to his brother at the Glendale fire station No. 1 this morning. "We are good for a couple or three bucks."

So taking Arthur Nielsen along with them they hied out to the Verdugo hills between here and La Crescenta this morning before breakfast and bagged a four point deer.

"There are two more we are after," said Johnny, who is known as a fighter as well as a hunter.

Funeral Service Held for Miss Thomas

Mrs. George Prickett of 159 South Columbus avenue and her mother, Mrs. F. S. Bailey, went to Pasadena yesterday to attend the funeral of their cousin and niece, Miss Suzanne Thomas, who was fatally injured Sunday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile at Monte Vista park in Sunland, and died Monday morning at the Tujunga Hospital.

Funeral services for Miss Thomas were held yesterday morning in Pasadena and the tribute from her pupils in the Pasadena High school was most impressive. She was an instructor in the commercial department.

The machine which injured her was occupied by two young men and at the inquest held in Pasadena Wednesday afternoon they were acquitted. Evidence was presented showing that Miss Thomas was crossing the road and walked directly in the path of the automobile.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Thomas, 70 years of age, who resides in Pasadena. Mrs. Bailey is Mrs. Thomas' sister and she has gone to Pasadena to live with her.

Miss Thomas' body is being taken to the family home in Vermont for burial.

Mayor Holds Office In Cell of Prison

BEAUFORT, S. C., Oct. 5.—A prison cell may not make such a delightfully pleasant office, and it may not be the customary place from which a mayor directs his official business, but a cell in the Atlanta federal penitentiary will serve as the executive headquarters of this little city for the ensuing year.

A year ago R. V. Bray Jr., a citizen of this town, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to serve a year in prison for striking an inspector of internal revenue. Bray offered for defense the statement that the federal officer had intimated that he was a liar.

Although the court convicted him of the charge, his townspeople, just to show what they thought of the affair, elected him mayor in the last election. He has surrendered himself to the United States marshal and will perform his mayoral duties, directing the policies and activities of his home town from the prison cell.

Kiwanis Club Hears Hobson Talk on Dope

the football game today between Franklin High school and the Glendale High school elevens.

The principal speaker of the day was Captain Richmond P. Hobson, who spoke on "The Peril of Narcotics and How to Meet It." After reviewing the exploitation of drugs during the past century and the insidious manner in which their use has been encouraged throughout the world, Captain Hobson declared that the remedy for the use of drugs is education, which must be given to all the students in the schools and colleges of the entire nation.

$1 Per Mile, Alabama Judge's Speed Rate

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 5.—"Sixty miles, sixty dollars," said C. F. Wilder, acting police judge here, in opening a drive against speeders.

The highest fine assessed thus far is $35, but Birmingham police have been bringing in the speeders at a rate of more than thirty a day.

The speeder going over forty miles an hour will be forced to change his lodging to the city jail until the expiration of his sentence, in addition to the dollar-a-mile fine, the judge said.

ELECTRIC HOIST

One of the world's most powerful electric hoists is being installed in a South African mine, to lift 10,000 pound loads of ore 5000 feet at a speed of 4000 feet a minute.

Nearly 110,000 Japanese are in the territory of Hawaii, according to the last census.

Famed Singer in Stellar Role

MADAME BRUSKE-HOLLENBACK
Mezzo Soprano, Who Has Volunteered to Take the Leading Part in "A Night In Dreamland"

A real inspiration for the work being done by Director Jay Wellington and the Glendale people in the cast of "A Night in Dreamland," to be given at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse the nights of October 10 and 11, has come in the announcement that Madame Bruske-Hollenback, talented mezzo soprano of Los Angeles, has volunteered taking the leading part in the production.

"This is indeed an inspiration," said Mr. Wellington, "for Madame Bruske-Hollenback is a great artist and tickets for her concerts command big prices. It is a privilege for me to have her in the lead and Glendale is fortunate in her appearance here in the coming pageant."

Called "Song Painter"

Madame Bruske-Hollenback has been called "The Song Painter" by critics and her professional background includes work as soloist for the Russian Symphony, for the New York Symphony and extensive concert work. This popular singer is greatly interested in work Mr. Wellington is doing on Mount Washington in Los Angeles, where he is building "The Mission Garden." Her appearance in Glendale is her gift to the construction of this garden.

Rehearsal Tonight

A big rehearsal is anticipated for tonight, when several additions will be made to the cast. Director Wellington is most enthusiastic over the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse auditorium as a setting for his pageant and is planning some artistic stage effects.

St. Mark's Guild members are to have tables in prominent business houses tomorrow to sell advance tickets and reserved seats are to be made next week, beginning Monday at the Gregg Hardware store.

Yucatan Government Subsidizes Baseball

MERIDA, Oct. 5.—The state of Yucatan has purchased baseball equipment from the public funds to the extent of $18,000, and turned it over to the youths of the land free. In addition the government has set aside public lands for diamonds and issued and distributed books on rules and regulations of the game through the schools, and to adults through other channels.

Yucatan has a socialist governor, Felipe Carrillo Puerto, who maintains that such action on the part of the state will bring about an improvement in the physical and mental condition of the youth of Yucatan, and help socialism to thrive because "Socialism thrives better in a vigorous, alert and free mind than in an enslaved and inactive one."

Baseball has gained great popularity in a short time and now is a rival attraction to bull fighting on Sundays.

Chicago Man Follows Methods of Priscilla

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Priscilla's suggestion to John Alden was not subtler nor more fruitful than that of William Printer, local restaurant proprietor.

Mrs. Lee Garfinkle, one of his regular customers, paused at the cash register a moment recently and said to Printer, who appeared quite disconsolate:

"Why don't you get married again Printer? You are full of life. I have a good woman for you. I will arrange a meeting."

"No, thanks," began Printer. "I cannot marry her. She is not my style." Then he hesitated for a moment. "Now, if she were you," he continued—"yes, that would be a different matter."

The nuptials were performed shortly afterward.

Young 'Davids' Shoot at Farmers' Pumpkins

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 5.—That local youngsters are "just as good shots as was David," hero of Biblical days, is the claim made by Henry Richardson, who appealed to Mayor H. M. Davies for protection—not for himself, but for his pumpkins.

Richardson explained that, instead of aiming at Goliaths, the youngsters here used his pumpkins as targets for their slingshots. He said nearly every one of the pumpkins in his garden were punctured and he, feared, ruined.

Officers Catch Wild Bull, Save Citizens

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5.—Two Kansas City detectives turned matadors recently when they were summoned to Center Station, between Rosedale and Argentine, Kansas, to rescue about 50 residents from the ravages of a bull suddenly turned belligerent. The minions of the law drove the fractious beast into a corner, lassoed and hog-tied him. The bull's owner, an aged negro, was seriously gored before the detectives arrived.

Twelve bells in three churches of Lausanne had only seven tones, so had to be tuned to stop the discord.

Emerson Players Will Stage 3-Act Comedy

Students of the Emerson School of Expression, 730-732 South Glendale avenue, are rehearsing for the presentation of their three-act comedy, "Her Honor, The Mayor," that is to be given at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse on Tuesday, October 9, at 8:15 p. m. The cast for the play, known as The Emerson Players, has been chosen with the greatest care, and an excellent dramatic performance is promised.

The comedy deals with the upheaval that follows the intrusion of women into the political affairs of a typical American town, and the series of complications that ensues when the women have seized the town's offices furnishes a vehicle for an immense amount of clever character portrayal and genuine fun.

Full-dress rehearsals will be held at the Tuesday Afternoon club's auditorium on Sunday and Monday to permit the players to become familiar with the house in which they will preseint their play.

Britain Will Choose World's Best Grocer

LONDON, Oct. 5.—An effort to find the world's champion grocer has started here, under the auspices of the Grocers' Exhibition.

The man who finally wins the title will have to undergo a stiff test and will be examined in fifty subjects and presented with a silver cup.

The aspirants for the title will have to trim and dismantle windows, blend teas, mix coffees, make up parcels of assorted commodities so that one article will not flavor another, cut and slice meats and do numerous other tricks.

The competition will be carried out with full dignity and there will be no cracker-barrel audiences.

'Hot Dogs' Lacking in Canada, Says Tourist

CANASTOTA, N. Y. Oct. 5.—That Canadians have not yet learned to eat "hot dogs" was one of the things that Edward Grems learned during the automobile tour that he and his family recently took into the country across the northern boundary of New York state. Mr. and Mrs. Grems covered more than 1,400 miles.

"We missed the wiener stands along the highways," said Grems in telling of the incidents of the trip, "and there were also no fried cakes to be found in the Canadian bakeris or homes."

Installation of Mr. Smith and other recently elected officers will take place Thursday night, October 18, with Peter L. Ferry, district deputy, and H. V. Henry, district warden, serving as installing officers.

A big celebration of Columbus Day is planned for Friday, October 12. Jesse E. Smith is chairman of the committee and he is arranging for special speakers and a dance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The French steamship Montant was in collision early today with the American steamer Buford, a former army transport, 25 miles west of Umatilla lightship, off the Washington coast, according to advices today to the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. There were no casualties, the report said, and both ships were able to proceed under their own power.

Kels Pleads Guilty to Slaying Stranger

Sanborn, deputy district attorney, said.

"We do not want it to appear that Kels is being railroaded to the gallows," Woodward said. "Kels has rights even if he is a murderer and we intend to see that he gets them.

"However, it is my purpose to show that the murder Kels is guilty of was premeditated and committed in cold blood. It will be up to the court to do the rest."

Woman Involved

Commenting on the report that Kels was involved in an illicit affair with a young married woman of Lodi, Woodward said:

"I am positive that this development has absolutely nothing to do with the murder case. I am sorry that this entirely extraneous affair has been brought out, because it will mean nothing but unhappiness for the woman in question."

Restlessly tossing on a sick bed in Lodi lies the wife of Kels, a prospective mother, entirely innocent of any connection with the murder of the unfortunate stranger and entirely oblivious of the fact that her husband is alive and guilty of one of the most henious crimes in the annals of California.

Among the children to win awards were: Marjorie Wilder, Charles Burnett, George Peabordy, Josephine McDowell, Philip Blumer, Lucille Wentworth, Albertine and Alfred Walz, Richard Koen, Ethel Osborne and Philip Weil.

"Cradled in the Women's Twentieth Century club, the Dahlia Show has emerged from the infant class and is growing up fast," says Mrs. C. W. Young, exhibit chairman, an Eagle Rock woman who has worked untiringly to make "the Homeland" and "the dahlia city" synonymous in eastern ears.

"We have not chosen the dahlia to build up Eagle Rock's fame. It has chosen us, just as J. J. Broomall chose this valley to build up his business that approaches an art. Like Luther Burbank, he experiments with flowers, always striving to produce finer species. But it is on the dahlia that he concentrates.

Means Much to City

"And so we women of the Twentieth Century club decided we would concentrate on the dahlia. The result is that our dreams are coming true. Next year we hope to have a two-day exhibit. We have elected a perpetuating committee, to insure the continuance of this idea. And practically every organization in the community is supporting us in our efforts, as they all realize what a wonderful thing the annual Dahlia Show is going to mean to Eagle Rock."

J. J. Broomall, genius of the dahlia, whose bulbs go all over the world and who is regarded as one of the half dozen or so leading horticulturalists of this particular type of bloom, naturally was unable to compete in the Eagle Rock exhibit, being classed as a professional, but many of his fine flowers adorned the clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

The women of the Twentieth Century club are now turning their eyes toward the 1924 Dahlia Show, next October, when a still more impressive exhibit will be held.

GLENDALE FACING MOUNTAINOUS JOB

Either City or Hills Must Move, Declares Prof. Xavius Zantippe

In a throbbing talk before the Left End Improvement association last night, Professor Xavius Zantippe startled his audience with the prophecy that within five years either Glendale or the mountains would have to be moved, as there would no longer be room for both.

"We are approaching our perihelion," enunciated the learned professor in his nuggiest tones.

"The time is coming—nay, it is almost upon us!—when those green Verdugo hills' our poet dwells upon so soothingly will have to be eliminated from the landscape.

"I, therefore, recommend that we petition the City Council to circularize the moving companies for bids. If the moving can't all be done in one piece, it can be done a hill at a time."

Referred to Committee

It was moved and seconded that the professor and his proposal both be examined by the committee on psychopathic convolutions.

When Professor Zantippe returned home he found that his beautiful daughter Xcellente had company. The library shades were drawn and the table light was in low gear. But on peeking mischievously through the portieres, he saw there was no cause for disquietude. It was only Ogracious, the son of his favorite bootlegger.

The professor closed the peekhole and reaching for a spear of Wrigley's, leaned on it for support.

'Putting Glendale on Map' In Early Days Recounted As Pleasantly Picturesque

By OLD TIMER
Member of The Evening News Staff

PUT Glendale on the map! It sounded like a slogan for a real estate campaign, but such was not the case. It was a bona fide proposition to meet a real situation.

Few maps of the earlier days showed the name of Glendale, Calif. The railway time tables ignored the name in the puzzling folders which the traveling public were wont to peruse on the long journey across the continent. The station at the southern limits of our city was called Tropico as that part of Glendale was known. And for a long period the Glendale postoffice was simply a branch of Los Angeles!

First Came Incorporation

It looks absurd to the newcomer of today to imagine such a condition as this, but nevertheless it existed and again it was up to the pioneers of our beautiful city to make known its location and its desirability as a place to make a home.

One of the first efforts to "put Glendale on the map" was the incorporation of the town, thus making street improvements and public utilities possible. This was followed by extensive advertisement of the favorable conditions of climate and location. One "ad" of an enterprising real estate agent carried the slogan "No Fog, No Frost, No Mud, No Dust."

Still another effort was a campaign to induce visitors to come to Glendale and see for themselves the beauty and desirability of this "suburb."

Spanish Resort Ads Fame

One of the outstanding incidents of this line "of showing our goods" was during the Shriners' convention, some ten years ago, in Los Angeles. In the little booklet issued to each visiting Shriner was a coupon, inviting the holder to a luncheon, al fresco, at the old Spanish hacienda in the foothills of Glendale. This landmark known in those days as Casa Verdugo was a famous Spanish restaurant at the foot of Mount Verdugo. It was not, however, the home of the Verdugos which lay farther east on the slopes of the Verdugo hills toward La Crescenta.

Casa Verdugo will go down in history as one of the first places in America to combine dancing and entertainment with meals. It was one of the original cabarets, and a highly advertised attraction by the Pacific Electric.

The place was noted for its tamales, tortillas and enchiladas and, as it was the ambition of

LINCOLN SALUTE TO FLAG TAUGHT

Martyred President's Pledge Specifies Banner of United States

An echo of Civil War days was heard at the Tuesday Afternoon Club on Tuesday and at the Daughters of the American Revolution meeting Wednesday, when the Lincoln flag salute was presented as being the one nationally recognized by patriotic organizations.

In leading the Tuesday Afternoon Club women Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, patriotic chairman, quoted Abraham Lincoln's reply to a question as how to salute the flag. He said: "When you salute the flag place your hand over the heart and let the pledge come from your heart."

The Lincoln salute changes the phrase in the pledge, "I pledge allegiance to my flag," to "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States."

In giving the pledge stand at attention, facing the flag. Place the right hand over the heart.

The form of the pledge follows: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and to the republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

Asks Appointment as Engineer on Sewers

Glendale may be able to select one of its own citizens as sanitary engineer in connection with the contemplated sewer system. A request for consideration in making an appointment to this position was received last night from Henry Jones of 832 East Chestnut street. He submitted several references as to experience and ability in this kind of engineering work.

MUSICALE OPENS CLUB'S SCHEDULE

Thursday Afternoon Members Launch Work at Bancroft Home

The Thursday Afternoon club opened its season's programs yesterday at the picturesque home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, 1423 South Brand boulevard, with a large number of members and guests present.

A musicale was the entertainment offered at this first meeting of the year, and the social hour which followed was especially enjoyable, as members met after the summer vacation. Of especial pleasure was the opportunity to greet Miss Eva Daniels, recording secretary, who has been touring the East during the summer.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. E. V. Bacon, the first vice-president, who automatically becomes the presiding officer this year, Mrs. W. C. Mabry, the president elected, having been obliged by ill health to resign.

Minutes of the last regular meeting, in June, which was held at Griffith park, and the minutes of the called meeting of July 18, were read by the secretary, Miss Eva Daniels, and approved.

List of Officers

Officers for the year are: Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president; Mrs. Kemper Campbell, vice-president; Miss Eva Daniels, recording secretary; Mrs. Roy Bancroft, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer.

The chairmen of standing committees, as announced, are: Hospitality, Mrs. A. J. Becker; program, Mrs. A. L. Bancroft; civics, Mrs. E. J. Morgan; patriotic, Mrs. A. G. Coleman; ways and means, Mrs. E. V. Bacon; membership, Mrs. J. M. Server; philanthropy, Mrs. Hal Davenport.

Communications were read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Roy Bancroft, from Mrs. Snyder, expressing thanks to the club for sympathy expressed; from the Alumni association of the University of California soliciting contributions to reimburse the students' fund which had been collected for the relief of the Berkeley students, sufferers from the recent fire. The fund was stolen. Mrs. Riskins spoke in behalf of this action. Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer, made a report of the finances of the club.

Mrs. E. J. Morgan, president of the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's Hospital society, an activity which the Thursday Afternoon club is sponsoring, asked for volunteers for the work committee of that organization.

Musical Program

A very delightful musical program was presented by Mrs. S. D. Vantine, the young artists entertaining being Miss Josephine Campbell, soprano; Miss Clare McIntyre, pianist, and Miss Esther Hoke, reader, all of Los Angeles.

Miss Campbell, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. Carrie Campbell of 1412 South Brand boulevard, sang "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" (Cadman), "A Memory" (Rudolph Ganz) and "Dites-Moi" (Nevin), accompanied by Miss McIntyre. Miss McIntyre played two piano numbers, "At Sunrise" (Grunn) and "Impromptu" (Arensky). Miss Hoke read "Over the Hills to the Poor House" (Carleton), in costume.

Fruit punch and delicious homebaked cake were served by Mrs. A. J. Becker, chairman of the hospitality committee, and Mesdames J. M. Server, J. W. Pemberton, Walter Sullivan, E. M. Smith, James Cunningham, Sara Shelton, L. D. Torrey and Frank Peters, hostesses for the day.

The next meeting, on the third Thursday of the month, will be held at the home of Mrs. Sara Shelton, on East Broadway.

'HOSPITALITY' AT KEATON PREVIEW

Hollywood's Who's Who To Witness Premiere at Glendale Theatre

The pre-view of Buster Keaton's new seven-part comedy, "Hospitality," that is to be shown at the Glendale Theatre tonight at 7:30 o'clock, has been made possible through the courtesy of Joseph H. Schenck, the producer, according to an announcement made by Manager W. A. Howe, who declares that the latest Keaton production is rated as far and away better than anything the frozen-faced comedian has ever presented.

In the cast, beside Buster Keaton himself, are Natalie Talmadge, Buster Keaton Jr. and Joe Keaton, the comedian's father, as well as a number of other characters, and the mystery part of the picture comes in with the statement that Norma and Constance Talmadge both appear in the picture, but disguised in such a manner that it is almost impossible to identify either one of them.

The picture has been produced under the direction of Jack Blystone.

The entire company that was engaged to make "Hospitality" will be on hand tonight, Manager Howe promises, as well as a group of between fifty and seventy-five movie stars of the first magnitude, who will motor over from Hollywood to see Buster's latest play.

Proceedings for the improvement of Thompson street between Glenwood and Kenneth roads with three-inch macadam, curbs, sidewalks and water pipe, if necessary, were authorized last night by the City Council.

A sixty-day extension of time in which to complete the paving of Wing street and Highland avenue was granted to Contractors W. J. Curren of 379 Patterson avenue and Peter L. Ferry of 614 East Acacia avenue last night by the City Council. This action was requested because of their inability to get delivery on macadam rock.

STUDENTS LEARN LIBRARY'S VALUE

School Opening Reflected in Increased Reference to Standard Works

Beginning of school activities has had its reflection in life at the branch library at the corner of Los Feliz road and South Brand boulevard, according to Charles H. Cushing, librarian.

"This shows the co-operation between the library and the schools", says Mr. Cushing, "for the children and young people are learning the way and value of reference work. In co-operating with the schools all the books on the collateral reading lists will be procured as rapidly as possible, if we have not got them on the shelves."

Juvenile Books

In the juvenile department are the following additions, "The Bookhouse for Children," a set in six volumes edited by Olive Beaupre Miller; "The Cowardly Lion of Oz," "Emily of New Moon" by the author of "Anne of Green Gables"; "Miss Minerva on the Old Plantation," a sequel to "Miss Minerva's Baby;" "A Continental Dollar" by Knipes, and "White Fire" by Du Bois, two Revolutionary books; "Castle Blair" by Flora Shaw; "Doctor Dolittle" "Postoffice" by Lofting; "Bird Stories" by Edith M. Patch; "The Courtship of Miles Standish" edited by Ernest Longfellow and illustrated by Wyeth.

Then there are for the smaller children, such books as: "The A B C Primer" by Lewis; "The Great Adventure of Mrs. Santa Claus"; "The Pied Piper of Pudding Lane" by Addington; "Story of Peter Pan for Children" by Barrie;" Art and Life Primer" by Jacobs and "Chicken Little".

For adults there are "Europe and Elsewhere" by Mark Twain; "Concrete and Stucco Houses" by Hering; "One Thousand Literary Questions and Answers" by Kramer; "Have Faith in Massachusetts" by Calvin Coolidge.

Sunday school teachers will be interested in "Sunday School Lessons" by Snowden and "Arnold's Sunday School Commentary" edited by Griffith.

Much New Fiction

New fiction additions are "Joanna Godden" by Kaye-Smith; "Peter Whiffle" by Van Vetchen; "Cross Sections" by Julian Street;

Our City Directory Gone!
Music Club Membership
Country Estates Passing
Coolidge's Course Wise

By Gil A. Cowan

SOME days ago we commented on the fact that we had a city directory on the editorial desk.

It was an ill-advised comment. While we mentioned a telephone book and dictionary, some one who cares about neither did desire a directory.

And so our directory is gone. We have to guess at people's names and addresses. Yet there is hope that we shall find the culprit who removed our property—and if we do—well, wait and see.

Justice sometimes is slow, but the person who takes that which is not his may expect to be called to account.

Funny old world this. We devote several paragraphs to lauding the Glendale Music club. Glad to do it, don't you know.

And then the next mail brings an invitation from Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, inviting us to become a member at $5.

Perhaps we should have saved and sold our words at so much a line and then had the money to be a member.

However, we had better practice what we preach and join, eh?

Two feature articles in The Glendale Evening News today well worth reading are Old Timer's account of early day methods to put Glendale "on the map" and the problem presented by Professor Zantippe.

The latter opines that either Glendale or the Green Verdugo hills must move. There seems not enough room for both. We hadn't really thought of it, but the hilltops are fast becoming residential sites.

The subdivision of Campbell brothers' property, among other places, calls to mind that even the country estates are passing.

Glendale is rapidly changing; the columns of The Evening News are like a kaleidoscope in their chronology of passing events.

No wonder so many people treasure their home town newspaper.

Forgetting local affairs for the minute, let us agree with The Hollywood Citizen editor, who says:

President Coolidge is taking a wise course, we believe, in seeking to take the World Court out of partisan politics and leave the matter of its acceptance or rejection by the United States strictly up to a non-partisan vote in the Senate.

There are Democrats who approve and Democrats who reject the World Court.

There are Republicans who stand on one side of the question and Republicans who stand on the other side.

When former President Wilson first championed the League of Nations, Republicans felt it was their big opportunity to secure a Republican victory, and so forced a partisan issue.

When the late President Harding started to champion the World Court issue he seemed to feel that it was necessary to present it as a Republican plan to justify the Republican opposition to the League of Nations.

Both Wilson and Harding met bitter disappointments.

Coolidge seeks to avoid these.

Probably as anxious as his predecessors to see this nation lend the utmost influence in helping to prevent wars, he nevertheless is perfectly willing to see the accomplishment come without particular credit going to either party.

All this may be done from a desire to avoid as much strife as possible within his own party or it may be done from the higher motives of eliminating some of the silly partisan conflict.

Whatever the motives, it ought to help in bringing this country to an appreciation of the folly of a lot of our narrow partisanship.

The real contest today, as yesterday, between the leaders of the two big political parties is for the political spoils.

If we must have this feature, let's have our prejudices stop there and devote our thought and study to the real issues on the basis of merit and not of partisanship.

American politics have never been on a high plane because of our willingness to sacrifice principle for prejudice, men for partisanship.

Perhaps President Coolidge will show us the way to better citizenship.

To round out our column, here are three pointed paragraphs from others' pens:

ENTERS COLLIES AT KENNEL SHOW

Warnick's Thoroughbreds Loom Like Winners in Three Exhibit Classes

Tujunga will be represented at the second annual show of the Hollywood Kennel Club to be held Friday and Saturday, October 5 and 6, by three collies belonging to D. J. Warnick, who divides his time between his thoroughbred dogs and his barber shop on Sunset boulevard.

Each of the three dogs is entered in two classes. Warnick's Sunny Jim will be entered in class 312, junior pugs, and class 314, novice dogs. Warnick's Queen, class 328, junior puppy bitches, and class 320, novice bitches. Buddy Boy will be entered in class 315, American bred dogs, and class 316, limit dogs.

Buddy Boy can be counted upon to show the way to the two pups as he has carried off honors before at kennel club shows. Early in the summer he won ribbons for his master at the Los Angeles Kennel Club Show, at which Warnick won several coveted ribbons with his entries.

Pupils of Mrs. Minnie L. Dunn, teacher of piano, will give an open class recital in Legion hall Friday night, October 5, at 8 o'clock, for the entertainment of parents and friends. Pupils who will take part in the recital are: Mildred Furlong, Loretta Bodkin, Mildred Adams, Laurell Frances, Myrle and Hazel Hagerman, Beverly Harrison, Elizabeth Bloomfield, Eunice Kenny, Evely Larson, Emma Messick, Clotilde Perkiser, Eileene Sweet and Constance Zitto.

Still another event scheduled for Friday is the opening of the furniture store at Marshall and Michigan avenue by Leonard Rowe. Opening last week was postponed on account of delay in the arrival of part of the building material.

Woman's Club to Meet

The first meeting of the Tujunga Woman's Club will be held Thursday, October 11, at Legion hall instead of the Community church, as previously announced. There will be a luncheon at noon for the members, and any assistance with this will be appreciated by the committee.

At 2 o'clock there will be a business meeting. All members are urgently requested to be present, as important plans for the coming year's campaign will be made. Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, president, desires that all committee members be present, that the plans may be outlined without delay.

Next Monday the school children will enjoy a day of vacation, as their instructors will be in attendance at a teachers' institute at Glendale.

Two teachers have been added to the staff to take care of the increased attendance. Mrs. Dorothea Manville of Los Angeles will assist with the lower grades and Mrs. Susan Wenzlaff, also of Los Angeles, will replace Mrs. C. G. Reilly, resigned.

Principal Axe reported the school work going forward well, with all teachers handling their classes with good results. Construction work on the new building is also advancing rapidly. A stone retaining wall base been built by Don Wiseman along the front of the terrace that fills the angle between the wings of the new building.

Pipe Water to School

A new connection with a large meter has been made by the water company, bringing the water supply for the school from the Haines canyon reservoir through the El Centro street main instead of from the Summit street reservoir. This change will give a greater pressure on the emergency fire hose in the new building.

Further steps were taken at the second meeting of the chamber of commerce road committee to complete the street improvement program to be recommended to the supervisors for next year. Dr. E. M. Spates, as a representative of the western section of Tujunga, expressed his fears that the section might not get a fair proportion of work in the event that not enough money is available to complete the program as tentatively outlined. He strenuously objected to any curtailment, contending that his section has not received its share of street work in previous years. As outlined by the committee, the recommendations to be made throw a majority of nearly two-thirds of the work west of Sunset boulevard. Dr. Spates was still fearful, and at his insistence the committee agreed to consider what preference should be given the streets enumerated.

Improvements Sought

The following recommendations will be made in a report to be presented for approval or amendment at the chamber of commerce meeting next Tuesday night at Legion hall: Improvement of Palm avenue from Manzanita to Hill; Los Angeles street from Monte Vista boulevard to Michigan avenue; Hill street from Walnut drive to Monte Vista; Monte Vista from Hill to Los Angeles; El Centro from the east end to Sunset boulevard; Blanchard Canyon road from Hillcrest drive to Olive street; Haines Canyon road from Monte Vista boulevard to Michigan avenue, and Summit avenue from Cedar to Palm avenue.

Another plan taken up by the committee was to launch a campaign through the chamber of commerce to have Monte Vista boulevard improved clear through from Michigan avenue to a connection with the proposed road into Tujunga canyon. The committee will probably include this suggestion in the report to the chamber meeting, urging that rights of way for the widening of Monte Vista boulevard be secured and that a united effort be made to secure an appropriation for this improvement.

BURBANK

TRUSTEES ORDER STREET MARKERS

Signs Will Be Erected at Corners When Funds Are Available

It is the intention of the Burbank Board of Trustees to place signs at all street corners as soon as funds are available, an order to this effect having already been decided upon, it developed when at the last meeting of the board a communication from the City Planning Commission was read recommending such action.

Attorney Walter C. Fisher appeared before the board with arguments for the removal of the Los Angeles prison farm near the southeasterly limits of the city. The board agreed to visit the farm and see for themselves the situation.

Should they decide to take action in this matter, it would probably be in the form of a recommendation to the Los Angeles City Council for the removal of the prison farm.

Local and Personal

The Eastern Star Sunshine club met October 1 with Mrs. J. Swall, of 819 Angeleno avenue, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Sewing was done for the Los Angeles Orthopedic hospital, with luncheon served at noon.

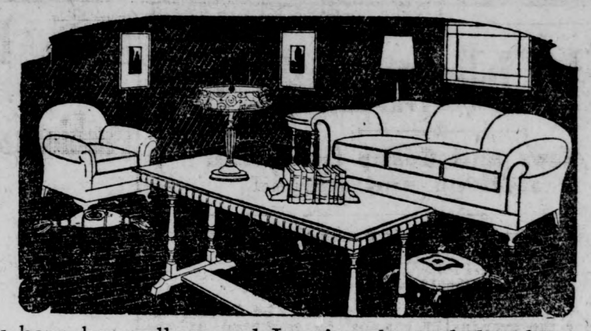

A "Women's Exchange" has been opened at 174 Orange Grove avenue by Mrs. H. La Pask, with the idea of offering a market for hand-made articles of all kinds.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. West of Glendale have moved to Burbank and are living at 507 Tujunga avenue. Mr. West is with the Community Investment company of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pierce of 634 Walnut avenue have had as their guests the past week Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sullivan and daughter Georgia of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Posey of Wichita Falls, Tex., Ben Brandenstein of Pensacola, Fla., La Verne Turner of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Fred Hilgerson of Pasadena.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. David Preston, who has been traveling with them in the east, has been critically ill, it is learned, a specialist and trained nurse being in constant attendance.

TODAY—German Industry Guarded; Machine Casts Duplicated.

By MINOTT SAUNDERS
For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—If Germany goes to smash under the ever-increasing economic and financial pressure the world will not be cheated entirely of the benefits of German industry, owing to the foresight of American business men. Casts and dyes of German machinery producing articles that now cannot be made outside of the country are being shipped to America to be put under seal and to be used only in the circumstance that German factories fail to function in future.

Clauses protecting foreign interests are now insisted upon in all contracts for German goods, but in reality this is a mutual protection, and German producers are glad to fortify themselves against a possible collapse here. This is a drastic departure from the German principle of keeping native industry "sewed up" and is only taken because of the extreme uncertainty of the business outlook.

It is distinctly understood that these dyes and casts sent abroad shall be sealed by the contracting parties and that no goods shall be produced from them so long as the German factories can fill their orders. But if the crash comes here these articles can be produced in America.

This step has been made necessary because of the reluctance of American interests to put capital in German manufactures in the face of economic instability. Business men have learned a lesson from the Russian trade debacle. Many German firms are in dire need of American capital and the American market and are forced to listen to terms.

There is a new German taxicab meter, declared to be decided improvement on anything of the kind elsewhere in the world. It is being produced through the aid of American capital. The American demand for the article is enormous, and so casts of the machinery have been sent to New York so that this business will be secure even if the works of the German makers are forced to close.

Another important article is the improved Diesel engine. This machine, it is claimed, will revolutionize the automobile and aviation industries. Certain American interests are keen about it, but they cannot have all their plans upset by a German revolution. So casts of this machinery will remain under seal in case of emergency. There are other important articles particularly in the electrical industry, that America may have to manufacture for the German owners.

Some German firms are jealously guarding their machinery still, and want to ship their duplicate casts only across the Swiss border, but American buyers insist the casts be sent where the market is, in order to avoid transportation costs. English and other foreign buyers are beginning to follow the American precedent to protect themselves.

The new policy forced upon the Germans by local conditions is looked upon as a considerable gain for American business. If factories are built there and the production of German goods once started it will hardly be good business to leave them idle when Germany is on her feet again, but the Germans reserve this decision for themselves.

HIRE DOGS TO MATCH DRESS

Fashionable Women of Chicago Start New One

Miss Frances Eubanks.

CHICAGO, Oct., 5.—Renting a dog for the afternoon to match a particular costume has been taken up in a serious sort of way by women of Chicago's fashionable North Side.

So popular has the practice become that dog renting agencies begin to list reservations early in the morning.

In the picture you see Miss Frances Eubanks and a Russian wolf-hound she had rented for the afternoon's promenade. She and other Chicago women have found the agencies handy because so many apartment hotels refuse to permit their tenants to have the animals on the premises.

"When I wear an afternoon dress," said Miss Eubanks, "and a big hat with fur, I ring up monsieur, the dog renter and reserve a dark brown chow for the day. If I wear a white skirt with a Russian short coat and high-heeled slippers that make me appear tall, it's to be a wolf-hound. For dark tweeds and brogues, an Airedale is the thing."

The custom is to place a deposit with the agency and then pay a rental of 50 cents or several dollars an hour, gauged by the breed of the animal. One phase that causes much confusion to the dogs is that each woman as a rule has her own pet name for the dog, so that he seldom knows when he's being called and when not.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BUNTY'S BALL

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" called a voice behind the bunny rabbit gentleman, as h was hopping along the woodland path one morning.

"My gracious goodness! I hope this isn't the Fuzzy Fox or the Woozie Wolf after me so early!" thought Uncle Wiggily. But when he turned around he saw Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, hopping along.

"What's the matter, Baby Bunty?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Are you afraid?" For she was hopping very fast.

"Yes, I—I am a little afraid," said Bunty.

"What are you afraid of?" asked Mr. Longears, for he could see nothing to frighten anyone.

"I am afraid you won't give me five cents if I ask you for it; will you?" And Baby Bunty shyly looked down to see if she had lost any buttons off her lace shoes, but she hadn't. I'm glad to say.

"You're afraid I won't give you five cents," wonderingly repeated Uncle Wiggily. "But why should you want five cents, Bunty?"

"To buy a rubber ball to squirt water," answered the little rabbit girl. "If you give me five cents I can buy a rubber ball to squirt water right next to the hollow stump bungalow and I'll have lots of fun."

"You wouldn't squirt water in school, would you, Baby Bunty, asked the bunny gentleman.

"Oh, no! of course not! Why, the very idea" gasped Baby Bunty. If I did, the Lady Mouse Teacher would keep me in after school. Oh, no, I wouldn't do such a thing as that—never; never! never!" and Baby Bunty shook her head so hard that she nearly shook off her pink blue hair ribbon.

"All right then, here's the five cents to buy the rubber ball to squirt water," said Br. Longears.

"Now, I'm not afraid any more!" laughed Baby Bunty, as she skipped along to school. Uncle Wiggily stood watching her for a while, his pink nose twinkling sort of sideways, and then he hopped along to look for an adventure.

But adventures were rather scarce that morning, like hen's teeth, you know, and after a while Uncle Wiggily said to himself:

"I think I'll hop along and visit the hollow stump school. The Lady Mouse Teacher is always glad to see me, and it will be just as well to take a look in and see that Baby Bunty isn't squirting her water rubber ball. If she did Teacher would blame me for giving Bunty the money to buy it."

Uncle Wiggily hopped along and along, and along, until he was at the hollow stump school and then he hopped inside where the animal children were studying and reciting their lessons.

"Oh, good morning, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted the Lady Mouse Teacher. "We are very glad to see you; aren't we children?"

"Yes, teacher, we are very glad to see Uncle Wiggily!" said all the animal boys and girls together, like clocks ticking and tocking.

"Sit down in this chair on my platform," said the Lady Mouse Teacher, "and I will have the children sing a song for you, Uncle Wiggily!"

So the rabbit gentleman sat down in the chair and the children sang.

First they sang the song about "Once a Cheese was Baited with a Piece of Trap," and after that they sang "Squinkle, Squinkle, Little Tar, I Love You No Matter How Black You Are." Both very pretty songs.

But, all the while, Uncle Wiggily was watching Baby Bunty, for he feared lest the little rabbit girl might squirt water from the rubber ball and so be kept in after school. But Baby Bunty seemed to be very good indeed. And once she pointed with her paw to the top of her desk, and Uncle Wiggily, looking, saw the rubber ball asleep there.

"I guess Bunty is going to be good and not squirt her ball," thought Mr. Longears. Then the Lady Mouse Teacher squeaked:

"Baby Bunty, you may now stand up near your desk and recite the little poem for your Uncle Wiggily." So Bunty recited about "Little Boy Red, Who Stood on His Head." It was a funny little verse.

Bunty made her final bow and sat down in her seat. And, as she did so, a stream of water squirted out and struck Floppy Twistytail, the piggie boy, right in the ear! Right in Floppy's ear squirted the water!

"Oh, wee! wee! Squee! Squee!" howled Floppy. "Oh, Baby Bunty squirted water on me from her rubber ball!" he howled.

"Baby Bunty! Did you do that?" asked the Lady Mouse Teacher sadly.

"The worst has happened!" thought Uncle Wiggily, his pink nose trembling.

"Teacher, I didn't do it on purpose," said Baby Bunty. "My rubber ball, full of water, was on top of my desk. It rolled down into my seat and when I sat down I sat on the rubber ball, accidental like, and squashed it, and that made it squirt on Floppy."

"Oh, that's all right, if it was an accident," kindly said the Lady Mouse. "But don't do it again, Bunty."

"No'm," said Bunty. And then all the other animal children laughed, and so did the little boy pig, for the water didn't hurt him, and so did the Lady Mouse and Uncle Wiggily.

"But I surely thought Bunty did it on purpose," said Mr. Longears to Nurse Jane that night.

"Maybe she did," laughed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, but I hardlly think so; do you?" And if the little poodle dog doesn't waggle his tail in the ink bottle and try to write his name on the wallpaper, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the late butterfly.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

You remember how Billy butted the grocery man and the puzzle man in the Japanese store.

When the two recovered their breath, they sat up and just looked at one another. Then each tried to persuade the other to peek out and see if the goat was still there. Both were afraid to move for fear Billy would take after him again. However, the grocer at last got up his courage and peeped out, but what he saw made him scream with rage for there stood Billy eating the paper money that lay in the cash register.

Forgetting all caution he jumped up, grabbed an empty packing box, and ran out of the store. And before Billy knew what was happening, the box came tumbling down on his head, giving his nose a scraping as it slipped over his horns. Billy wheeled to go after the Jap, all the time trying to shake off the box, but it did not budge, as it had slipped over his horns and was securely fastened on his head. Speaking of a bull in a china closet, it wasn't a circumstance to the damage one goat did in a small grocer's booth.

Every time Billy turned around or jumped to one side in an effort to extricate himself from the box, he knocked over baskets, swept things off the shelves, overturned cans of sugar and bags of meal that showered down on him like rain. He upset that little shop until it looked like a rubbish heap. The more the Japs tried to get Billy, and by this time there were about twenty-five Japs and spectators gathered around, the more of a mess Billy made. At last the box moved a little and he could see through a crack with one eye. That was enough to show him the way out of the shop, and he also saw the crowd in front laughing or scowling, according to the view they took of the havoc he had wrought. He determined to charge into them, and made a special man his target,—a big, fat fellow who was laughing at the discomfort of the goat until the tears ran down his cheeks.

"I'll make your tears flow in earnest," thought Billy, and with a quick turn, he was out of the shop and right in the middle of the crowd, headed for the fat man, who at the moment had his eyes shut and mouth open he was laughing so hard.

Biff! Bang! There was a sound of something very heavy falling, accompanied by deep groans, and the fat fellow lay sprawled out in the little street, as if dead.

(I hope Billy did not kill the man, don't you? Tomorrow's story will tell).

Dinner Stories

It was a hot Sunday in May. In a little room on hard wooden benches sat forty wiggling, little humans. The hot sun poured through the windows. The teacher's inexperience added to her heat, recites Judge.

The lesson was the separation of the sheep from the goats. Calling on her imagination, the teacher described vividly the wonders of heaven and the horrors of heli. Ruth, aged four, on the front bench, listened enrapt, her eyes growing larger and larger.

"Ruth," ended the teacher, "where would you rather go, to heaven or to hell?"

"I'd like to see both places," replied Ruth.

Teacher, hastily: "We will now sing a hymn."

A vacation always looks better while you are waiting for it than it does when you are on it. Because, when you are on it, you can't help counting the days that will elapse before it is over. A vacation begins getting over just as soon as you start on it.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

THE SANITARY MAN

He tried out every new idea
And sanitary caper.
He always wiped his face upon
A towel of blotting paper.
He never used a public cup,
He always shunned the misses
Because he feared the peril of
The microbes in the kisses.

His brushes were all sterilized.
No money would he handle.
He wouldn't touch a person's hand;
A handshake was a scandal.
He studdied scientific books;
A sanitary grubber,
And when he touched a doorknob he
Would put on gloves of rubber.

He ate according to the rules
Laid down by Horace Fletcher.
He said they ne'er would have a chance
To tote him on a stretcher.
He lived a scientific life
And broke the routine never.
He said when all his friends were gone
He would live on forever.

The best laid plans of mice and men
Oft go awry, that's certain.
A train ran over him one day.
The end. Pull down the curtain.
The moral of the tale is this—
The sages oft' repeat it:
Fate holds the aces in life's game,
No man lives who can beat it.

GLENDALE CHEST DIRECTORS NAMED

Committee's Report Adopted; Permanent Organization Formed at Meet

Permanent organization of the Glendale Welfare Chest, the name by which the proposed Community Chest is to be known, was completed last night at a meeting that was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, with W. E. Hewitt in the chair.

Burton McGinnis, temporary secretary, submitted the report that had been drawn up by the committee of five appointed to draft the plans for the organization that will direct the collection of funds for charitable and welfare work in Glendale, and after a brief discussion the report was adopted. The committee that prepared the report consisted of W. E. Hewitt, Mrs. Dan Campbell, George B. Karr, Jesse E. Smith and Dr. Warren Z. Newton. Dr. Newton resigned his post on the committee before its work was completed and was replaced by David Black.

Directors Named

The adoption of the report elected the following persons to be directors of the organization: C. H. Toll, W. E. Hewitt, David Black, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, V. M. Hollister, Roy L. Kent, J. A. Newton, Peter L. Ferry, Dr. H. E. Harrower, Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. E. D. Yard.

An advisory council will be chosen to aid in the direction of the work of the Glendale Welfare Chest, the following names having been tentatively suggested by the committee compiling the report:

The various local organizations will be requested to get in touch with the directors at once and appoint representatives who will be authorized to act in collaboration with the board in arranging for the collection of funds to meet the requirements of the different charitable and welfare bodies in Glendale.

Boosts Sewer Bonds

Before the meeting adjourned Mr. Hewitt spoke briefly on the sewer contract, urging everyone to acquaint themselves with its provisions and to support the proposed bond issue. Mr. Hewitt declared that the city's cesspools, which are costing $100,000 a year at this time, constitute a source of danger to the health of the community, and the only escape from the present condition, he asserted, is to insure the construction of a sewer system with the least possible delay.

Matinee Musical Club Honors Mrs. Ballagh

The Matinee Musical Club of Los Angeles celebrated its fifteenth birthday at the meeting yesterday, and Glendale is interested in the event, for Mrs. James Ballagh, founder of the club, now resides at 308 North Louise street, and was honored at the celebration yesterday.

Since coming to Glendale Mrs. Ballagh has become a member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and the Glendale Music Club, and on Tuesday of this week she was assisted by a group of Matinee Musical Club members and other artists in presenting "Lullabies, Songs and Dances of the Nations" before the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. Ballagh is chairman of the creative section of the Glendale Music Club.

Nesselroad's Protest Denied by Council

A protest against the proceedings for the improvement of Chilton, Bellevue, Elm, Allen and Alameda streets was filed by C. P. Nesselroad of 1100 Tenth street with the City Council.

"If the street of Chilton is improved, as intended," he wrote, "it will be raised above my property some three or four feet, leaving my land in a hole. The street of Elm has been moved from its original location which will result in conducting a large amount of water from the hills and causing it to flow over and flood my property to its great damage."

Although Mr. Nesselroad owns nineteen per cent of the property in the assessment district, his protest was denied. Proceedings will continue.

Booking Agent Will Furnish Entertainers

The Sunset Booking agency has established an office in Room 16, Rudy Building, 103 North Brand boulevard, and is prepared to furnish musical and theatrical attractions for any kind of social event. The firm also undertakes to carry out the entire details of any social function, from ordering the flowers to attending to the catering.

The original Sunset orchestra of six pieces will be available for dances and other entertainments here.

Joe Chapelle, and Lee Bergstrom are in charge of the firm's Glendale office.

Church Attendance in Relation To Population Growth

"Glendale should be able to boast that it has a larger church attendance in proportion to her population than any city in the United States."

The Glendale woman who made the above statement the other day did not stop to explain herself. She is a zealous church worker and a loyal Glendalian and it may have been that the wish was father to the thought. And, again, she may have reasoned the matter out and come to that conclusion logically.

Glendale is the fastest growing city in the United States. Why are we adding to our population so rapidly? There are several causes, of course, one of them being that Glendale has become widely celebrated as a city of homes. And one of the reasons why Glendale is a city of homes is because of its clean moral atmosphere; the integrity of the city and the citizens; the absence of those influences which corrupt and which thinking parents of growing children try to avoid at any cost.

This condition, of course, attracts others who like moral cleanness and repels those whose ideals of personal morality and civic righteousness are not of the highest.

And the churches of Glendale are directly responsible for this condition. There are decent people outside the church who would fight to keep Glendale clean in every way, but it is the church that has established and maintains the moral status of the community. And, so the church is deserving of the support of all who wish to see Glendale keep growing and keep clean.

Glendale has strong churches, large memberships and good attendance. But overflowing churches is one of the ideals toward which Glendale, as a city, should strive.

ODD FELLOWS TO MEET IN POMONA

Glendale Contingent Headed by S. T. Bronnenberg; 5000 Will Attend

S. T. Bronnenberg of 214 West Harvard street will be among the Glendale Odd Fellows participating in the grand encampment of the I. O. O. F. in Pomona beginning Sunday and continuing four days and nights.

According to reports from Pomona, General C. H. Kornbeck of the San Francisco canton will arrive on Sunday, and it is expected that 5000 visitors will be entertained in the city for the big gathering.

Ganesha park, Pomona's widely known recreation ground, has been changed into "Camp Kornbeck" and a carload of cots from San Francisco was added to the accommodations yesterday.

A number of brass bands will be in Pomona for the encampment, including the famous San Francisco State Encampment band, containing over fifty pieces.

In addition to the encampment proper, the women's auxiliary will also meet here.

Special features will be a big parade, grand ball, brigade formation, grand reception, competitive drill and a band concert by the San Francisco band.

New York Society Plans Annual Picnic

Members of the New York State Society of Southern California will hold their picnic reunion in Sycamore grove, Los Angeles, on Saturday, October 13, according to an announcement made by the president, Dr. Geo. H. MacNeill. A brief program will be presented, but the main idea of the day is to have a good time. Basket lunches, brought by the members, will be supplemented by free coffee, and tables may be reserved for any city, county or college groups.

The monthly reunions will be held on the first Thursday of each month at 327½ South Hill street.

Girl Faces Quiz in Lovers' Death Probe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—While officers throughout Southern California today hunted Francisco Padillo, driver of an El Paso-Los Angeles stage, following the slaying of Clifford Flippen, detectives here planned to question an 18 year old girl whom Flippen was said to have planned to marry.

OXY ALUMINAE TO BE CLUB GUESTS

Women Plan Program of Meetings to Honor U. S. Universities

Honoring the various colleges and universities of the United States at their meetings will be inaugurated Saturday, October 13, at the meeting of members of the Glendale College Women's club at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where Dean Irene Myer of Occidental College will be honored guest and speaker, and Occidental alumnae will be most cordially received and "Oxy" colors will be featured in the decorations and luncheon appointments.

The November meeting will feature Pomona College and it is planned that a Stanford-University of California day will be arranged for a date near the annual big football game in the north.

Tentative plans discussed at the recent directors' meeting were for having the institution or institutions honored represented by honored guests and speakers, by alumnae hostesses and by colors, emblems and songs.

It is the hope of Mrs. D. F. Reichard, the program chairman to have personal messages from the president of the colleges and universities honored.

Invite Oxy Women

"We are hoping that this first meeting will be a big send-off for the rest of the year," said Mrs. Reichard in announcing the first meeting. "We want as many Occidental women present as possible and a cordial invitation is extended to them whether they are members of the club or not. Luncheon reservations will be open to all Occidental College alumnae and they may be made with Mrs. W. E. Lusby of 416 Riverdale drive, telephone Glendale 1491-R. Reservations must be made by Thursday night, October 11.

"There are ninety college and university women enrolled in the club, and we are hoping that this number will be greatly augmented by Occidental alumnae a week from Saturday to greet Dean Myer and help us honor Occidental."

RAPS LABOR'S FOES

PORTLAND, Oct. 5.—The real danger to the labor movement of the world is the boring from within the ranks of organized labor by those who would substitute theories for the system of democratic government, Frank Hodges, secretary of the coal miners' federation of Great Britain, stated in an address before the American Federation of Labor convention.

Bags made of flax have long been used by people of the desert to keep water cold.

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

FEEDING THE CHILD IN ITS SECOND YEAR

Table of Feeding From the 12th to 15th Month (Calories 800 to 1100 per day)

Important Note!! If your babies have not been having solid foods up to the twelfth month, Mothers, begin as you would at the sixth month with half-teaspoonful of the new food. You can increase the amounts a little faster than this amount, but be cautious.

Baby may and probably will refuse the solid foods. If he does, withhold the milk and starve him to it. It won't hurt him. A twelve or even a twenty-four-hour fast (with plenty of water) will usually convince them that you mean business. Be prepared for a stormy time, and warn your neighbors so they won't have you up before the anti-cruelty society. Has happened!

6 A. M.—Milk, 8 ounces, from cup by thirteenth month. No sugar. Dry, crisp bread and butter, about one-third ordinary slice; increase gradually. Juice of one orange.

10 A. M.—Milk, 8 ounces, from cup. Cooked cereal with milk (part of the 8 ounces) 3 to 4 level tablespoons. No sugar. Dry, crisp bread and butter. Egg yolk 2 or 3 times a week or oftener, cooked slightly or raw in milk or on toast.

2 P. M.—Milk, 4 to 8 ounces, from cup. No sugar. Meat or vegetable broths (3 to 4 ounces) with rice or bread (24 hours old) in it, 2 or 3 times a week. Scraped beef, 1 tablespoonful 2 or 3 times a week when broth is not given. Dry crisp bread and butter. Clean bone to gnaw on. Pureed vegetables, 3 to 4 tablespoonsful. (Potato and one other. Spinach 3 or 4 times a week.) Fruit pulp, cooked or raw, 2 to 4 level tablespoonsful.

6 P. M.—Milk, 8 ounces from cup. No sugar. Dry, crisp bread and butter, one-third to one-half slice. Cereal, one-quarter to one-half cupful, with some of the 8 ounces of milk on it. Fruit pulp, 1 to 2 tablespoonsful.

Water, one-half to 1 glassful between meals.

If your baby is malnourished or ill, Mother, he should be under the care of a pediatrist—a specialist in children's disorders—for it is very difficult at times, even for one skilled and experienced, to treat these cases.

Next Friday I shall give you a table for feeding baby from his fifteenth to eighteenth month.

IMPORTANT!

Readers of this column are very many and very interested. They write many inquiries, which Dr. Peters is eager to have and very glad to answer when possible. But more and more they neglect to self-address envelopes for the reply.

Now, owing to the great number of inquiries received, we are sorry that it is no longer possible to make reply unless the simple rules of the column are observed. Hereafter if you expect a reply you must enclose a stamped envelope, fully addressed to yourself, with your inquiry. Otherwise your letter will have to be destroyed and the postage (if sent) will be given to charity.—The Editor.

Reader friends have kindly sent me the following recipes to publish so that other women may try them:

"Million Dollar Relish—One-half peck of cucumbers, one quart of onions, two quarts of cabbage, two red peppers, one green pepper, two large stalks of celery. Cut up fine, sprinkle with salt and let stand overnight. In the morning pour cold water over the mixture and drain well. Then add one quart of vinegar, let boil till tender, then add three cups of sugar, one-half cup of flour, six tablespoons of mustard, one tablespoon each of tumeric and celery seed, one teaspoon of mustard seed and one pint more of vinegar, and let cook for ten minutes longer, stirring to prevent scorching. Seal at once in hot, sterilized glass jars. Here is another fine recipe:

"Peach Marmalade—Cut into small pieces the rind of one orange. Add to it the juice and pulp of four oranges and cook over mild heat till the rind is tender. Then add four pounds of peaches cut small (skins and stones removed) and let the mixture boil for a few minutes. Now measure it by cupfuls and add to it an equal measurement of granulated sugar. Return all to the preserving kettle and let boil till thick, stirring frequently. Can while still hot in hot, sterilized glass jars.—W. H."

"Green Tomato Preserve—This is a good way to use up the little left-over green tomatoes found in almost every garden at the end of the summer: Cut them in half and then into small pieces. Weigh and for each pound of the tomatoes add three-quarters of a pound of granulated sugar and one lemon thinly sliced. Put the sugar first into the preserving kettle with only just enough cold water to dissolve it, then add the tomatoes and lemons and let come to a boil; simmer gently till the tomatoes are transparent and the sirup thick. Seal at once in hot, sterilized glass jars. Our family likes this preserve better than any other.—Mrs. Mc. L."

"Bordeaux Sauce — (Fine to serve with cold meats in winter time.) Chop one gallon of green tomatoes by putting them through your food chopper. Add to the chopped tomatoes two gallons of chopped cabbage, one dozen small chopped onions, one dozen chopped green peppers, one ounce celery seed, one-half pound of white mustard seed, one gill of salt, one-fourth pound of white sugar and one gallon of vinegar. Mix all these ingredients well and cook for only twenty minutes before turning into hot, sterilized jars or bottles and sealing air-tight. Halve the recipe if it is too large.—An Old Cook."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

FAMOUS AMERICANS

The middle-aged lady who always reads the financial page because she once owned three shares of something.

The old fogy who takes half an hour to tell the dullest story you ever heard.

The sap who talks about his trip on the Mayflower when you take him out in your rowboat.

The woman who keeps insisting that she hates anything "loud or vulgar."

The girl who when riding in your flivver spies a Rolls-Royce and gurgles, "Now, that's what I like!"

The hostess who looks grieved when you refuse the third helping of the worst pie you ever tasted.

The girl who wants to talk Schopenhauer on a moonlight night.

The very homely girl who doesn't want to talk Schopenhauer.

SIMPLE STRAIGHTLINE FROCKS

Effective and desirable because they are capable of development in almost any smart material, these frocks are becoming to both slender and stout figures. The first model, in French flannel, closes at the left side and has groups of tucks at the shoulders. The collar, cuffs and pockets are trimmed with fancy braid to simulate hemstitching. For the belt self-material or ribbon may be used. Medium size requires 3¼ yards 40-inch material and 1⅛ yards of ribbon for the tie.

A little more restrained in its style, because of the long sleeves, is the second model in silk and wool eponge. It is a one-piece slip-on model with the upper front of the blouse cut in square effect. There is a motif of embroidery on the front, and sleeves are stitched with bands of self-material. The motif may be embroidered in the color of the eponge, or two or three different tones of embroidery silk may be combined in working it. The sash is of self-color satin ribbon. Medium size requires 3⅝ yards of 36-inch material. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1702. Sizes, 14 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1737. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 45 cents. Motif No. 12820. Transfer, blue or yellow, Price, 25 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 15. When I was 13 my father told me to go away and never come back, which I did. Shall I go back to my dear mother or shall I stay away? She lives in another state. I am very homesick for her. I have a father and five brothers and five sisters.

LONELY GIRL.

Correspond with your mother about your return. Doubtless she wants you to come just as much as you want to go, but there might be conditions which would make it unadvisable for you to return at present. Through correspondence you will be able to learn what is best to do.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young woman of 25 and I am in love with a young man. I have only been with him one time, but he is on my mind all the time. I wish you would tell me what to do.

WORRIED.

You have allowed yourself to dream about the young man until you have pictured a very lovable character. Naturally, you could not know him very well after an acquaintance of one evening, and it is evident you have fallen in love with an ideal instead of a reality. Try to think less about this man, because if you let your thoughts go you will become very unhappy, and learn to take more interest in other people so that you will have something else to occupy your mind. Work hard, exercise and take part in the pleasures which appealed to you before you met the man with whom you are so much in love.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 16 years old and have been keeping company with a young gentleman four years older than myself. He came to see me the other night, but I was at one of my girl friend's. He came up there and he had another young man with him whom I liked very much. When I started home the other one asked if he could escort me home. The young man who came to see me was very angry and he says he will not call on me any more. I like him very much and hate to lose him on account of the other taking me home. Do you think that I did wrong by letting the young man who came with him take me home?

DIMPLES.

Yes, it was most tactless for you to let the other young man escart you home. Since you liked him you might have told him to come to see you some time, but you ought to have let your old friend go home with you since it was natural that he should expect that privilege.

Waiting: To be made fun of and laughed at are things which very few people can stand with composure. I don't blame you in the least for acting as you did at the dance, but I would not advise you to explain the matter to the young man since you would be placing the blame on his sister and niece. If you are only patient, time will probably straighten out your difficulty. Sooner or later you and he will meet, and at that time if you are friendly he will probably meet you half way. To write about your experience would be a bad plan, but if you have a chance to talk to him directly you could say that you thought you were being made fun of, and so without reason you tried to show you did not care. Admit that perhaps you misunderstood, but from nervousness you were not yourself.

A correspondence course in lovemaking is being advertised. Lovemaking by correspondence is always a mistake. The way to make love is by telephone. In the first place, probably you won't be able to get on the phone, and, in the second place, no traces are left if you do.

Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

SEA BATHS IN WINTER

If you've lived anywhere within reach of the sea you have most likely chosen the seaside for your vacation, so you know the benefits of salt water bathing. If you live too far away you've missed something so good for you that you should lose no time finding out about it, even though you take your sea baths in your own bathtub.

A physician might explain to you at length just why salt water baths are so beneficial. Salt is healing and cleansing; swimming in sea water stirs the skin to extra activity, makes it throw off the waste matter that is only too apt to clog in the pores, makes your blood run, and does a dozen other good things to you.

Sea baths in a tub won't be quite so stimulating, because you won't have the advantage of exercise. But if you use sea salt generously, enough at least to get the approximate amount of real sea water, and if you have the water quite warm, you'll have something almost as good. For the heat will let the saltiness get at the skin, and it will open and cleanse the pores.

Salt baths are specially recommended for nervous people. Oddly enough, they rest and relax while they stimulate. A hot salt bath will often bring on sleepiness in a bad case of insomnia. Nervous babies benefit by salt baths, too. And cold salt water is a marvelous thing for the complexion; it tightens up the sagging muscles of old age and helps prevent the wrinkles of middle age. It brings color to sallow, pale skins.

But try it! Bags of sea salt are really very cheap. You'll see the improvement in no time at all; at the end of the first bath the skin will be rosy and glowing when you rub down with a towel; the whole body will feel better than it does after an ordinary soap and water bath.

Marcella M.: When sending for government issued pamphlets to Washington you must always allow from three to four weeks to have them mailed to you.

Daisy: Bleach your neck by using buttermilk or cucumber juice each day. With blue eyes, light hair and a fair skin wear blues and browns of deeper shades than those of your eyes or your hair. Such a choice will enrich your natural coloring.

N. A. C.: A sluggish liver will cause a dark circle around the mouth.

M. E.: As you have a tendency to overweight, eat sparingly of all starchy, sweet or fatty foods.

Take sea baths the year round.

Train yourself to eat a little less than your appetite craves and the desire for so much extra food will disappear. You will also be healthier for making these changes.

Tomorrow—Carelessness.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN OUTLINES PARTY'S MAIN ISSUES

"All the live and material issues of 1924 cannot now be forecast, either in general or in detail, both on account of changing conditions and of the ability of the party in power to make and unmake some issues by acts of omission and commission," says Chairman Cordell Hull of the Democratic National Committee. "All pressing and vital issues materially affecting the welfare of the people, or of most of them, should be kept abreast of each other. The next Democratic National Convention alone can define the issue for Democrats. From present-day opinion and discussion the following may be pointed to as some of the more important issues of the present and the immediate future, without reference to the order of their importance:

CORDELL HULL

The demonstrated failure of the Republican Administration, which has been aimless, instable, and unable either to understand or solve most of the acute domestic and international problems.

The broken Republican platform pledge to reduce the high cost of living and prosecute the profiteers.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff law, already costing the people four billion dollars a year in excessive and extortionate prices.

Special privilege in its many other aggravated forms, as prompted and championed by the Republican Administration.

The practical application of the principle of international co-operation—embracing the essentials and fundamentals of the foreign policies of the recent Democratic Administration—to existing conditions, contrasted with the humiliating failure of the Republican Administration to deal decisively with any important phase of foreign affairs.

A constructive patriotic merchant marine policy as against the proposed ship subsidy.

A sound and humane industrial policy to solve industrial problems—to insure full and equal justice to labor and capital, and to sustain their peaceful relations—in contrast with hopeless Republican failure during the last two years.

Relief in transportation and transportation costs.

A more progressive and constructive remedy for the desperate condition of agriculture, especially as it relates to transportation and distribution and foreign markets.

Speedy and equitable tax reduction—Federal, State and local—accompanied by rigid economy.

States' rights and local self-government in matters purely local in their nature.

Honesty and efficiency in the public service.

Republican betrayal of the Civil Service.

A much higher standard of public and political morals.

Application of the great body of intelligent, sound, liberal and progresisve sentiment to the prompt solution of conditions and problems affecting the commercial, economic, industrial and social welfare of the people.

The adoption of sound economic and trade policies, domestic and foreign.

When you travel, train or flivver,
You don't need to poke your liver
With a lot of calomel;
Then aside with all our joking,
It's a sin to keep a-poking
At your liver when it's well.

Heavy the diet, heavy the eyes;
light the diet, we lightly rise.

Strychnine and exercise are fine tonics—as such; but an over-dose of either may do irreparable damage.

MIDGETS' ELEVEN LOSES TO LINCOLN

Little Pigskinners Go Away From Home and Nearly Win, Score 7-6

Glendale's midget football eleven met its first defeat Thursday afternoon when the Lincoln High team triumphed, 7-6 on the latter's ground. Glendale had an easy time ploughing through the Railsplitters and their only touchdown came in the third quarter, when the entire local team was composed of subs. McAllister ran 55 yards for the "babes" only score, but they failed to convert.

The backfield was weakened by the absence of Lovell and Shuler, first string fullback and half respectively. Had Lovell with his educated toe staid away from the Angel-Bee game, the score would have likely been a tie. Red Stillwell played a stellar game on end and it was his perfect interference that enabled McAllister to elude the Lincoln safety man.

The first quarter was twenty-five minutes long. The ball seesawed from one team to the other until McAllister went through tackle for a long run. He failed to convert. The ball was set in motion again but the whistle soon blew.

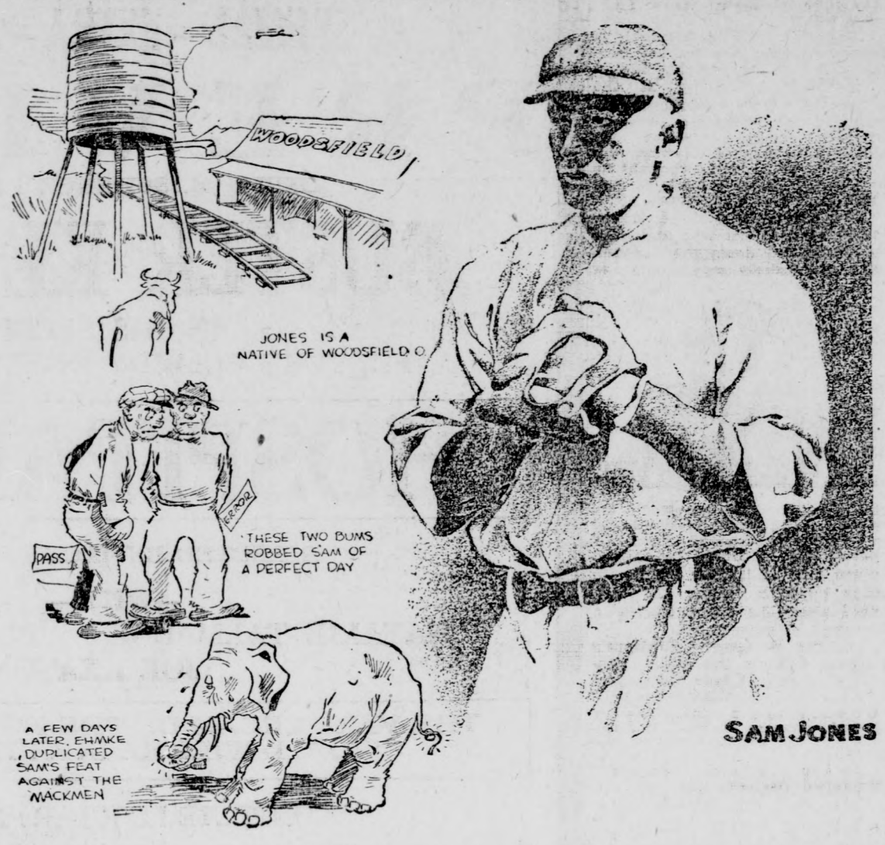

Nothing noticeable happened in the second, although Glendale repeatedly went through the opponents' line, only to be stopped on account of poor interference. This was the one point where the Lincoln eleven had the better edge, the backfield was given perfect interference.

Coach Butterfield sent a team composed entirely of subs into the fracas at the start of the second half. Although they fought hard, they were unable to hold the railsplitters first team and a touchdown was chalked up for the enemy. They forged ahead of the locals when they added the extra point.

The regular team was sent back into the game the last quarter and the Red and Black squad nearly secured another touchdown. McAllister almost duplicated his feat, but was tripped by the opposing center and before he could get his balance the Lincoln babes were upon him.

As the Lincoln Class B second team defeated the South Pasadena first team midgets recently, Coach Butterfield is confident that the locals will take them into camp at the first league game.

'Sad Sam' From Woodsfield Makes Stickers in Big Time Turn Sad, Too, So Records Show

FIGHTING SPIRIT MATTHEWS' ASSET

Athletic Recruit Puts Pep Into Team and Rooters in Philadelphia

Wid Matthews—that name alone ought to make any ballplayer famous; but couple with it real talent, and you have a combination that is doomed to succeed.

That's just what has happened, too. For Wid Matthews is a real person and one of the best recruits to come up into the big league this season.

Wid can hit and field like a streak. Many an easy infield grounder has been turned into a base hit by Wid's flying heels.

"And that ain't all," as the saying goes. This Matthews person has something else no one can cultivate, and that's a fighting spirit that radiates from him like a radio wave.

He plays baseball as though it was the greatest joy of his life. He's the sort of player who runs out every hit, just as if he expected to beat it out. No play is pulled off that doesn't find Wid in the midst of it. He has put more spirit into the old Athletics than all the other players combined.

The spirt of Wid's enthusiasm doesn't stop within the confines of the diamond, either. The crowd gets a sniff of it, and for the first time in nine years the Athletics are getting real support from the rooters. Many a dull game hopelessly lost has been pulled out of the fire in the last inning by a batting rally started by Wid, and carried through to a successful conclusion by his fighting spirit.

This happy, pepperv, snappy spirit has won him the name of "Sparkling" and he seems slated for the heights in baseball stardom in the seasons to come.

Nothing seems to succeed like enthusiasm.

Wid comes from Metropolis, Ill., where he was a great athlete at high school playing on the baseball, football, track, basketball and tennis teams. He was in the navy during the war.

He broke into the big game with Rochester, then went to Toronto, on to Milwaukee, where he batted .338 and .333 in 1921 and 1922, and then to the Athletics. And he surely seems to be the "Sparkplug" that was needed to start the old Athletic machine hitting on all cylinders, the way they have come up this season.

The other day "Sad Sam" Jones, modest little violet from Woodsfield, O., read how the Athletics, through fat years and lean, had escaped being hitless since 1908. Frank Smith, then with the White Sox, turned the trick that year.

"It's about time somebody else did it to 'em again," mused Sam.

So he got a good sleep that night and the next day turned the trick—without smiling once.

When his fellow players rushed up to congratulate him after he had turned back twenty-nine men and watched but two reach first—one on an error and one on a pass—he sort of sighed and said: "I had a real good day."

It was the first no-hit game ever registered by a Yankee hurler. Other pitchers who had worn or later donned Yankee monkey-suits boast of hitless games but hung them up for other clubs.

Joe Bush held the Indians hitless as a Mackman. George Mogridge, former Yank southpaw, won such a game for Washington. Jim Vaughn, at one time a Yankee hurled hitless ball for nine innings against Fred Toney in one of the greatest pitching duels in the game's history

Meanwhile, the Yanks, have been turned back hitless. George Foster, star of the Red Sox in 1916, turned the trick against the Gothamites that year.

But for that pass and error, which marred Jones' game he would have taken rank with three other men who have turned in no hit, no-man-reach-first games since the modern style of baseball was adopted.

Cy Young was the first man to perform that feat. On May 5, 1904 the grand old man from Tuscarawas county, O., turned every man jack of the Athletic crew back. Four years later Addie Joss of the Indians duplicated Young's feat against the White Sox. During the 1922 campaign young Charley Robertson, fresh from the sticks joined Cy and Addie.

A number of pitchers have turned in no-hit games but errors, passes and infield grounders turned in forceouts have placed men on bases.

But the number is not great enough to make the feat at all commonplace. Happy is any player who turns in one such a game in his career and those who come and go without achieving hitless fame are legion.

All this seems not to worry Sam. He seems as glum as ever. Still has nothing to do but pitch. And, oh, how he dreads it.

Incidentally, while the Athletics were recovering from the beating Jones gave them Howard Ehmke duplicated his feat against the poor Mackmen less than a week later. Which has caused the Humane Society to think of taking an interest in the Macks.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Yankees' defeat of the Athletics will prevent the pennant winners rolling up a string of 100 victories this season. Babe Ruth knocked out his thirty-ninth homer but it availed his teammates naught.

Cy Williams kept two homers ahead of Babe Ruth when he slammed out his forty-first as the Phillies were beating the Braves 10 to 2.

The White Sox finally triumphed over the Tigers, 9 to 6, and sent Detroit a step further away from second place.

Tris Speaker is slowing up, maybe. He only rapped out a homer, his fifty-fifth two-bagger of the season, setting up a new major league record, and three singles in five times up, the Indians winning from the Browns, 9 to 1.

Donagh's two doubles enabled the Red Sox to defeat the Senators, 7 to 6.

High School Varsity Plays Franklin Today

Glendale Union High school's varsity football team meets Franklin on Moyse field today in a practice game. The Kiteflyers have a very strong team this season, so a hard-fought game is expected. Glendale and Franklin are old rivals, and the latter always gave the locals a hard fight when they were in the Central league. Franklin eleven was the only one to defeat the championship team of 1920, which fought its way up into the semi-finals for the Southern California pennant.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Because the Giants and Yankees give every indication of a desire to play the world's series at Bellevue hospital, odds on the affair tightened to a point where 11 to 10 and even money only can be had. The Yankees are still favorites where odds are given at all, but injuries to Ruth, Meusel, Pipp and McNally have sharpened the judgment, if any, of those who like to lay the long money on a proposition worth exactly one hundred cents against a dollar.

Ruth's ankle seems to have come around nicely almost over night, but it is now admitted that Pipp will hardlyy be ready to play in the series. This, if true, will make the Yankees' chances look a bit sour, since it will not help Ruth much to be placed at first base, where his bad ankle will be subjected to much more strain through quick starting than if he played in the outfield.

Casualties Feared

A severe bump in taking a throw at the bag or a twist of his ankle in starting for a ball might toss our Mr. Ruth flat on his shoulderblades for the rest of the series. That would help the Yankees like salt helps coffee.

However, the Giants are pleased to admit that they are compiling a natty list of casualties themselves. Ross Young, one of the most consistent hitters in the outfit, is recuperating from an attack of influenza, it is learned, and is still very weak. He expects to play in the series, but his illness may have thrown him off stride.

In addition, Hugh McQuillan, who pitched a winning game against the Yankees last year, is said to have a sore arm and Ralph Shinners, extra outfielder, is out of baseball until next spring.

Cornelius Mack intimates that a seat on the fence is very comfortable at this time.

Both Have Pitchers

"Pitching," said he, "is the big thing in a world's series—pitching and the breaks that go with it. Huggins has a fine lot of pitchers, but don't overlook the fact that McGraw has a few top-notchers himself.

"The Giants have won 95 games and the Yankees 96, so that McGraw must have had some good pitching to compile that record. In fact, no team ever won a pennant without pitching. Watch for the breaks and watch how the teams take advantage of them or fail to do so. That will determine the winner, although I might add that the way the pitchers are handled will have a lot to do with it also."

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"They Like 'Em Rough" is the title of the Metro picture showing at the Glendale Theatre today, with chic Viola Dana in the lead. It is a story of a girl who didn't realize that being married meant being a wife.

The story was written by Rex Taylor, one of the leading scenarioists in the business. Harry Beaumont produced it. With Miss Dana in the cast are Knute Ericson, Colin Kenny, Burton Law and other capable players.

The story, in brief, is of a girl who says, "I'm going out and marry the first man I can find!" She does so, this little heroine portrayed by Viola Dana, marries a lumberjack, in fact. This individual promptly proceeds to insist that she be his proper and orderly spouse, which she refuses for a while to do, making for many complications and a fascinating finale.

THE GATEWAY

"Human Wreckage" continues at the Gateway Theatre, where it is immensely popular, as elsewhere. It is the anti-narcotic film made by Mrs. Wallace Reid, whose husband recently succumbed in an effort to overcome the dope habit.

This is a startling film, showing sincerely the havoc "dope" can wreak on a human being. It takes a successful lawyer, Alan MacFarland, played by James Kirkwood, and shows how he is dragged into the dope ring by being given drugs when overworked, on the advice of a physician who, himself, is part of the ring.

Mrs. Wallace Reid plays the part of MacFarland's wife, struggling with him until he at last gets hold of himself, comes back and starts to clean up the ring. Other capable players in the cast are Bessie Love, George Hackathorne, Robert McKim, Claire McDowell and Victory Bateman.

GEORGIA ON EAR OVER STRIB FIGHT

Boy Wonder of South Gets Draw With McTigue; Crowd Disagrees

By B. V. STURDEVANT
For International News Service

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 5.—Fight fans here had blood in their eyes today.

They saw their "boy wonder of the south," young Stribling, fight Mike McTigue for the world's light heavyweight championship here Thursday afternoon. They heard Referee Harry E. Ertle call the bout a draw.

After a threatening demonstration they were informed that "in view of the unanimous opinion of the press," the decision had been changed; that Stribling won. Today, after a night of exultation, these same fans found that again the decision was changed and that the two battlers fought to a draw.

Referee Intimidated

Ertle declared he was "intimidated" by promoters of the fight and that he would never have left the ring alive had he not awarded victory to the 19-year-old boy. He charged that one of the leading promoters forced him to hold up Stribling's hand as conqueror.

The fight was a poor exhibition of championship material and the challenger led easily in eight of the ten rounds. Ertle said "Stribling is a good fighter and a return battle would easily settle the argument." But Joe Jacobs and Mike McTigue left town too quickly to figure on the proposed fight.

When the gong announced the end of the fight Ertle raised both hands and rushed toward the ropes in an attempt to make a quick exit. He never left the platform as an angry growl went up from the thousands who saw the battle.

"Mob" Rules Him Champ

The handful of military police and city officers surrounding the ring were unable to keep the mob back. Ertle found himself surrounded on all sides by enraged fans, demanding that he give the decision to Stribling.

The ring then was cleared long enough for a conference with the press. A vote gave a unanimous decision to the challenger and a formal announcement was made that "our boy has won."

The crowd was satisfied.

"Young" Stribling, at the end of the final round, broke loose from a clinch and watched the referee for his decision.

Poor Boy Weeps

When he heard it was a draw, the schoolboy fell back against the ropes with tears in his eyes. He then sat in his corner until the second change was made.

As he crawled through the ropes, heralded as "new champion," his mother was awaiting him with "How are you, darling?"

McTigue left the ring as soon as possible after the fight and did not make another appearance.

Monday will find "Strib" back in high school, busy with his studies. He lost only one week in training for this, his greatest battle.

In the meantime local promoters have wired the New York boxing commission, asking for an immediate investigation regarding "Ertle, well-known Jersey City referee; McTigue and his manager, Jacobs."

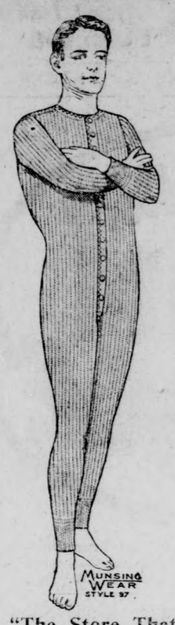

The telegram stated that 6000 fans are demanding that the boy be returned winner.

Leonard Prepares to Fight at Tia Juana

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion who has signed with Jim Coffroth to defend his title at Tia Juana December 24, said today that he would leave for the scene of the bout some time next month.

Leonard's opponent has not been named, but it is understood that the selection of the challenger has been left with the promoter. The latter said he would erect an arena seating 50,000 for the fight.

Putting Glendale on Map Was Big Task

every eastern tourist to taste the tamale "on its native heath," the proposal of the Glendale Shriners and citizens to put a Spanish luncheon at Casa Verdugo on the program was eagerly accepted.

Bring Berries and Blossoms

All organizations in both Tropico and Glendale were enlisted to make the occasion a great success. The Pacific Electric was the only means of transportation as autos were comparatively unknown at that date.

At an early hour there was a gathering of maids and matrons in the spacious grounds of the Casa, each bringing choicest blossoms from her garden, long-stemmed roses, carnations and arm loads of lilies.

As the guests descended from the cars they received a pretty welcome as each "knight of the fez" and the ladies accompanying him were presented with beautiful flowers, a golden orange from the Glendale hillsides and a basket of long-stemmed Tropico strawberries, each berry a giant specimen.

The amazement and delight of the visitors were beyond description. Later the guests were escorted to the vine-covered ramada and served with steaming tamales and cunning little "pancakes" as they persisted in calling the tortillas, which were covered with a chili sauce which needed no artificial heat to warm it.

As memory recalls the scene, the bright, sunny day, the picturesque background of the hacienda and its garden, and the eager guests, it seemed as if the old days of Spain had returned and the hospitality, characteristic of the old times, had revived.

Every vehicle in the small city had been secured and the luncheon guests were driven out among the foothill orange groves, then a great novelty to the tourist. The Thom ranch (Bellehurst), the Ross place and the Dow (later the David Black) grove, were inspected. When surries and carriages were full, big ranch wagons from the neighboring groves drove up and the laughing visitors with their red fezes looking like an exaggerated "posy" bed stood up in the wagons and went out to pick oranges.

As an advertisement of Glendale the day was a great success. The visitors in the cold and snow of an eastern winter remembered sunny Glendale and in more cases than one definite results were realized from this effort "to put Glendale on the map."

BUYS GREENLEAF DRUG CO.'S STORE

R. W. Ahlmann Buys Entire Interest of Owners in S. Brand Firm

The Greenleaf drug store, 200 south Brand boulevard, yesterday was taken over by R. W. Ahlmann, who bought out the entire interest of W. H. Greenleaf. The amount involved in the transaction is not made public.

Mr. Ahlmann has been, for the past six months, associated with the Owl Drug Company in Los Angeles, severing his connection with that organization to engage in business for his own account in Glendale.

The new owner will not make any changes in the personnel of the firm at this time, nor will he change the policy of the establishment in any way, declaring that it is his intention to adhere to the highest standards of the profession and to render the best possible service to the people of Glendale, carrying only lines of merchandise that merit the confidence of his patrons.

Before coming to California over a year ago, Mr. Ahlmann was in business in Bassett, Neb., his home town being Norfolk, Neb. He is a registered pharmacist in the state of California.

W. H. Greenleaf and his son, Thomas Greenleaf, will be associated with Mr. Ahlmann in the store for the present.

Name Pioneer Drive Residence District

Pioneer drive between Columbus and Central avenues probably will be declared a first-class residential district by the City Council. Following the reading by City Clerk A. J. Van Wie of a petition from interested property owners requesting this action, Councilman C. E. Kimlin introduced a motion that City Attorney Ray L. Morrow should prepare the necessary ordinance. This was carried unanimously without discussion. The proposed restrictions will prohibit apartment houses, flat buildings and bungalow courts.

Prof. Zantippe Finds Wife Silently Snoring

fessor Zantippe entered his study. There on his dresser, under the bottle of bay rum, was a note from Mrs. Z.

"Meet me at the movies, Xavius, my pet," it said. "Go down the fire escape so as not to disturb little Xcellente. It's the first company she's had this fall."

Grabbing his plug hat and a change of gum, the learned professor hastened to do the bidding of his mate. Arriving at the street via her instructions, he hastened to Glendale avenue, where he caught a trolley. It would have stopped anyway, the conductor said, but he thought he might just as well catch it, seeing it didn't cost any more.

The professor slumped luxuriously back in his seat and the car proceeded down the avenue with the orderly movements of the planets. He consulted his watch. With luck, he should be in time for the second show. Of course, Mrs. Z. would be obliged to see part of it over again, to catch up with him, but she could sleep—he thought with a hiccough of amusement.

Imagine Professor Zantippe's annoyance when the other passenger, a rotund lady built close to her shoes, reached for the bell-cord and gave it a yank. The car slowed, came to a stop. But the lady did not avail herself of the opportunity to exit.

"Is this your street, Madam?" demanded the conductor.

"Oh, no," she grinned coyly. "I was only fooling. I go right on to York boulevard."

At last the professor was inside the Marvelous Theatre and had found his wife. Fortunately she was silently snoring, so he had no difficulty in locating her.

Wrecking his plug hat in the wire mangle under the seat, he selected another strip of gum and settled back for a pleasant evening's relaxation.
